Detroit Hotel Fire Takes Three Lives

Scores Saved By Firemen

DETROIT (AP) — Three persons were killed, but scores of others saved their lives by crawling on their hands and knees through smoke-filled corridors as fire raged through the Tuller Hotel Saturday.

The blaze apparently started near the first floor of the 14-story hotel in the heart of downtown Detroit. It swept up an elevator shaft with amazing speed, and many of the guests in the 800-room hotel were trapped in their rooms temporarily.

Fire Commissioner Paxton Mendelsohn said more than a score of guests were hanging out of hotel windows when the first fire trucks arrived. Many were taken down by aerial ladders.

Others, including several elderly women who are permanent guests at the hotel, groped their way down smoky fire escapes. Many of the guests were clad only in nightclothes as they fled into the 12-degree cold. They found lodging at other hotels that also overlook Detroit's Grand Circus Park.

Mendelsohn said the three dead were trapped in an elevator. He said they were coming down from upper floors and were caught in smoke and flames when they reached the main floor.

The dead were identified by the Wayne County medical examiner's department as John P. McDermott, 47, an assistant manager of the hotel; and John Henderson and George Washburn, both 65 and engineers at the hotel.

A hotel spokesman said there were 444 guests in 238 rooms in the hotel Friday night. He said the fire did not reach above the second floor but that the lobby was charred and the second floor scorched.

Receiving Hospital authorities said at least 14 injured had been admitted there, several in serious conditions. Names of the injured were not available immediately.

Mendelsohn said that the fact the fire had broken out in mid-morning, rather than at night, kept the death toll down.

Fire Chief Joseph H. Adler said (Continued On Page Nine)

MAN FOUND FROZEN JOKES WITH NURSES

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP)—William Korpi, 54, who was found frozen stiff in near-zero cold Friday, joked with the nurses at a hospital here Saturday.

"I feel a tingle in my toes," he said.

Nurses said this was a good sign. They said his condition was as good as could be expected.

Dr. William Mertaugh said Korpi had a good chance of recovering. The physician said Korpi was frozen stiff as a board when he was found unconscious beside a road on Lake Huron's Drummond Island. State conservation officers said two open quarts of whiskey lay near the man.

Conservation men said Korpi, a laborer who lives alone on the island, apparently had wandered onto the side road and fallen asleep after drinking. He had lain in the cold some 12 hours.

BABY ATOMIC GENERATOR — John A. McCone, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, (right) unveils a 5-pound atomic generator for President Eisenhower at the White House in Washington, D.C. AEC experts hailed the new generator as a "significant breakthrough" in producing electric power from heat. In the center is Maj. General Donald J. Keirn, Chief of aircraft reactors, AEC. Sen. Dirksen Backs Eisenhower Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett Dirksen of Illinois said Saturday he is going down the line for President Eisenhower's 77-billion-dollar budget.

But Dirksen conceded in an interview that he may not have the full support of Senate Republicans in trying to head off what he said is likely to become a spending splurge by the Democratic-dominated Congress. Eisenhower is sending his detailed budget proposals to Congress Monday.

Dirksen said he will fight against going beyond Eisenhower's budget figures for airport expansion, area redevelopment, and housing. He said he will back the administration's views on labor anti-trust legislation.

All four of these subjects have been marked for early Senate consideration by Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

"It is a fair assumption that these programs, as they are developed by the Democrats, will be very substantially greater in terms of money than the administration will propose," Dirksen said. "I certainly intend to speak for the administration when they are brought before the Senate."

"Once you get away substantially from the President's budget recommendations, the tendency is to go even further. Congress is likely to say at some point: 'We've already made a big hole in the budget, so why not go further?'"

"We face the choice between planned deficits to stimulate the economy or holding the fiscal line and thus giving the greatest incentive to private enterprise to take up any slack in the economy."

Dirksen said the geographical appeal of some of these programs on which Johnson has called for action may make it difficult to maintain solid party position before the president.

PHILOSOPHY COURSE FOR MENARD PRISONERS

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP) — Menard State Penitentiary prisoners soon will be offered a Southern Illinois University course in philosophy.

Its title, "Ideas of Good and Evil,"

W. L. Moore, chairman of the SIU Philosophy Department, will teach in the prison.

It isn't that Hagen himself is a poor speller. "I used to win spelling contests back in North Dakota where I grew up," he said.

It's just that the "inconsistencies, vagaries, and vacillations" of spelling are so frustrating, he said.

Crippled TWA Plane Makes Safe Landing

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A crippled Trans World Airlines plane skidded to safety on a foamy runway today to end a five-hour ordeal for 28 passengers and five crewmen.

The Constellation circled for hours. Its landing gear and braking systems were gone and the pilot was having trouble with one of the four engines.

"We were all laughing until moments before the landing — then everyone began to pray," said Mrs. Margaret O'Dowd of St. Louis, a passenger.

There was no panic. Crew members went unharmed about the business of making in-flight repairs.

"I think we were praying mostly for the pilot," said Mrs. O'Dowd. Other passengers, who filed calmly from emergency exits after the belly landing, echoed her sentiments.

Capt. Norman E. Schaeffer of Kansas City needed only 2,000 feet of the 12,000-foot runway to bring the big plane to a sliding stop. "I've made a lot harder wheel landings," he remarked.

Schaeffer first discovered the trouble about 11 a.m. (CST) when he could get only one wheel down over St. Louis. Instead of attempting a landing there, the plane continued to Kansas City. TWA officials and Schaeffer then decided to bring the flight in at nearby Olathe Naval Air Station rather than Municipal Airport.

One wheel was down and locked, the other was retracted and the smaller nose wheel was halfway down. For a time it was feared Schaeffer might have to attempt a one-wheel landing—a maneuver far more dangerous than a belly landing.

While Schaeffer circled above Kansas City, he and other crewmen managed to retract the lone landing gear.

The disabled landing gear was plainly visible from the ground as the plane circled at 1,500 to 4,000 feet.

After it was retracted and elaborate plans made for a belly landing, Schaeffer discovered the braking system was useless and one of the craft's four engines started "rumbling rough."

"It was a beautiful landing," said Associated Press newsman Wes Cook.

Schaeffer and Engineer O. W. Molloy, also of Kansas City, talked calmly by radio almost constantly with TWA officials and mechanics on the ground.

Capt. Schaeffer praised the passengers. "They reacted wonderfully," he said.

Mrs. O'Dowd summed it up by saying, "I wasn't scared, but I prayed awfully hard."

Guest Sleeps Through Fire At Detroit Hotel

DETROIT (AP) — Harry Partre, 75, awoke Saturday morning in the ninth-floor room of the Tuller Hotel where he has lived 20 years.

Leisurely he shaved and showered. Then he went into the corridor and pressed the button for an elevator. Nothing happened. So he started to walk down.

Three floors down he met an employee and complained about the poor elevator service. The employee said there had been a fire.

Outside, fire trucks were just pulling away after fighting the fire which raged through the hotel, killing three persons and temporarily trapping scores of other guests in their rooms.

Partre had slept undisturbed through the 21-hour battle against the fire.

He walked across the street to get breakfast and ran into his brother-in-law, Herman Matthias, who had been frantically checking hospitals.

"My God, am I glad to see you," exclaimed Matthias.

Partre told his story. Matthias, whose face had been grim, burst into laughter.

UAW Locals Vote To Accept Pact Ending III Strike

CHICAGO (AP)—The first three United Auto Workers locals to report voted unanimously Saturday to accept an agreement for ending the two-months strike of 37,000 International Harvester Co. workers.

The locals represent 800 clerical and skilled workers at the company's plant in Canton, Ill.

A short time later, UAW members at the Fort Wayne, Ind., plant voted, with a show of hands, to accept the contract. No count was taken.

A fourth Canton plant local representing 1,300 other production and maintenance workers and the big majority of the UAW locals at 14 other Harvester plants and to deposits and warehouses will ballot on the settlement terms Sunday.

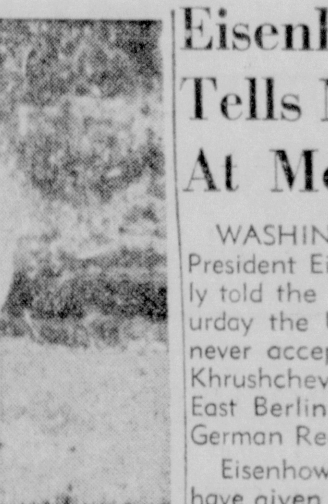

Even before the Canton locals reported, Duane (Pat) Greathouse, UAW vice president and chief of the union's 18-man Harvester negotiating team, predicted overwhelming approval of the agreement by rank and file workers.

He told newsmen Saturday: "The strike is all over. We'll be back to work Monday."

CUBAN EXECUTION — Sequence of 3 pictures showing Lt. Despaigue, chief of army provol cars under Batista regime and a "well known murderer," being executed by Fidel Castro's men, at Santiago De Cuba. Castro Warns U.S. Against Trying To Stop Executions

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Fidel Castro has warned the United States against attempting to use "cannon diplomacy" to halt the executions of Batista's men. At the same time he is starting a campaign of pressure against the United States to "return the war criminals."

These attitudes were outlined as revolutionary officials discounted reports that former dictator Fulgencio Batista had landed a counter-attacking force, or was planning to do so, somewhere in Cuba.

Maj. Victor Bordon, acting commander at La Cabana, the fortress across the bay from Havana, told newsmen such an attack from Batista's refuge in the Dominican Republic was improbable.

Bordon said, however, that his chief at La Cabana, Maj. Ernesto Guevara, had departed for the central province of Las Villas because revolutionary units were somewhat disorganized. He declined to explain further.

It was announced Friday night that Maj. Eloy Gutierrez Menoyo, who commanded 4,000 to 5,000 men in spearhead fighting in Las Villas, had led his men back to the province from Havana for demobilization. There was speculation, however, that the move was a precaution against any Batista counterblow.

Castro, the revolutionary armed forces commander, who masterminded the New Year's Day overthrow of Batista's dictatorship, made his remarks about U.S. diplomacy in a speech to about 10,000 persons in front of the Presidential Palace Friday night.

Democrats Reach Stalemate On Convention Site

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — The Democratic party's Site Selection Committee reached a stalemate Saturday in attempts to choose a city for the 1960 convention.

Chairman Camille Gravel Jr. of Louisiana recessed deliberations until 9:30 p.m. after a day of discussion on a convention site.

Gravel said no decision could be expected before 10:30 p.m.

Four cities had kicked up their bids to $250,000 each. Gravel named them as Miami Beach, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Philadelphia.

"Other considerations now will be taken up," he said.

But Gravel declined to say that New York and Chicago had been eliminated from the running. New York earlier had $300,000 and Chicago "at least" $250,000.

The eight-member selection committee's decision is not final. It must be approved by the Democratic National Committee. However, approval by the national committee is considered routine.

COUPLE OBSERVE 70TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

TOMAH, Wis. (AP) — Sunday will be a special day in the life of Emil and Chloe Hunt—the 70th anniversary of their marriage.

But they'll start it the same as all other days in the last 70 years, by reading their Bibles before their old kitchen range.

Mrs. Hunt, 86, her last birthday, does all her own housework with an assist from a cleaning woman one day a week. Emil, still active in the timber business, will be 90 on April 7. They have seven children.

Many followers of the deposed Cuban dictator, Fulgencio Batista, fled to the United States after Batista's government collapsed.

They said that if the problem arises it will almost certainly be one for consideration by the courts rather than by the administrative branch of the government, including the State Department.

The United States has had an extradition treaty with Cuba for many years. Similar to many such accords with other countries, it provides that either nation may request the return for trial of a person charged with some specific crime.

"The government which governs least governs best."

"This, of course, would be a boon for 5th graders."

"Let natcher tak its course."

Intense Cold Follows Snow In Parts Of Midwest, East

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Intense cold numbed much of the eastern half of the nation Saturday on the heels of crippling snowstorms in parts of the Midwest and East.

Emergency crews took advantage of clearing skies to dig through snowdrifts that halted auto production and closed schools in northwestern Indiana and stalled traffic in western New York State. Snow forced suspension of racing for the second straight day at Charles Town, W. Va.

Parts of Michigan were buried under 4 to 15 inches of snow.

A state of emergency was ended at noon Saturday in South Bend and Mishawaka, Ind. Brisk winds had whipped an 18-inch snowfall into mountainous road-blocking drifts throughout the area.

Stores opened with the end of emergency status but the Studebaker-Packard Corp. plant and University of Notre Dame remained closed. The main roads and streets were reopened after an all-night battle with the drifts.

New York State had at least eight traffic deaths attributed to the storm. An infant died of exposure in Georgia when the mercury fell to 12 degrees at Athens.

Five-foot drifts stalled traffic on South Buffalo's Fuhmann boulevard along the Lake Erie shoreline.

The snowfall was reported 21 inches on the level near Pulaski, N.Y., east of Lake Ontario.

Highways were slippery and travel was hazardous in parts of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Tolling Bells Will Protest Mikoyan's Visit To Florida

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — The bells of scores of Florida Catholic churches will ring in protest Tuesday when Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan visits the state.

Archbishop Joseph Patrick Hurley of the St. Augustine diocese has called on all Catholics in his diocese to attend special masses Tuesday "on this momentous occasion when Mikoyan defiles the soil of Florida." The diocese covers most of the north and central portions of the state.

He recommended the masses be accompanied by the tolling of church bells.

Eisenhower Tells Mikoyan At Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower solemnly told the Soviet Union Saturday the United States will never accept Premier Nikita Khrushchev's plan to turn East Berlin over to the East German Reds May 27.

Eisenhower was reported to have given this notice during a 134-hour meeting with Soviet First Dep. Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan.

The White House conference, climaxing Mikoyan's two-week visit to this country, ended with no sign of concession by either side on Berlin, German, or disarmament.

Despite this, informed officials predicted a Big Four foreign minister's conference will be held sometime this spring before the date Moscow has fixed for ending four-power Berlin rule.

The 63-year-old Mikoyan, relaxed and smiling, went immediately to the Soviet Embassy. Presumably, he will draft a report to the Kremlin on his round of talks.

His morning meeting with Eisenhower capped 11½ hours of talks with administration leaders, four of them directly with Secretary of State Dulles.

Mikoyan later canceled plans for a two-day Florida visit beginning Tuesday. He now plans to leave by plane for Moscow Tuesday, three days earlier than previously scheduled.

Authorities familiar with Mikoyan's talks said that despite his relatively mild language, he reaffirmed the Soviet Union's Berlin plan while disclaiming any thought it should be considered a peace or war ultimatum.

No new proposals or counter-proposals were put forward in the confidential talks among Eisenhower, Dulles and Mikoyan.

Some authorities said they detected a hardening rather than a softening of the Soviet position on Germany in Mikoyan's words.

Mikoyan spoke scathingly of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and of what he described as the belligerent attitude of the West German government, informants said.

Nevertheless, these sources said Mikoyan will return to Moscow with a far better realization of U.S. unity and determination to stand firm in Berlin.

He undoubtedly will have a clearer insight and respect into U.S. industrial might.

Search For Bodies From Argentina Airliner Crash

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—A submarine, frogmen, and rescue ships searched Saturday for bodies from an Argentine airliner that crashed off the coast of a beach resort with 52 persons aboard.

One Argentine, Roberto Servente, 34, miraculously escaped when the twin-engine plane plowed into the Atlantic off Mar del Plata Friday night in a violent storm. All the rest were presumed dead.

Servente was found injured on the beach four hours after the crash.

Austral Airline, owner of the plane, said the pilot apparently was trying to make an emergency landing in the storm. The plane was en route from Buenos Aires to Mar del Plata, 240 miles to the south, with 47 vacationers and a crew of 5.

The airline said it believed there were no foreigners aboard.

Survey Four Methodist Churches

Tabulating results of a survey of four Jacksonville area churches are MacMurray students who are formulating information that will subsequently be made into graphs, charts, and a mimeographed booklet. Methodist churches in Scottville, Palmyra, Hettick, and Modesto were studied by the MacMurray sociology department, with four of the group pictured above. They are: Thel Baumann, Arlington, Va., a sophomore; Richard Hart, 1825 S. Glenwood, Springfield, Ill., Jean Ellison, sophomore, Maplewood, N.J., and Joe Mason, a freshman from Pekin, Ill.

Dr. Richard Nesmith, chairman of the Sociology department and Dean of Men at MacMurray, is directing the study. It is designed to help the church achieve a clearer understanding of some of the strengths and weaknesses in a church program by analyzing its membership.

For example, in a similar study last year of the Ashland Methodist church, the MacMurray survey revealed that the fewer number of men in relation to women in the church constituency pointed to the need for a stronger approach to men of a certain age group. In addition, the Ashland study revealed that a comparison of the age-sex structure of the church membership with the church school suggested a need for a review of the program for the adult division of the church school.

The church study includes a survey of its members' shopping habits, income, average church contribution in relation to income, membership in various community organizations, extent of church activity, and many other similar activities.

Tomb Of Pope John XXIII Bewilders Tourists; Guide Tells Of Great Schism

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — The tourists were downright puzzled. Pope John XXIII who died in the give way to Alexander or his successor, John, and until 1415, where a vigorous Pope John XXIII rules the Vatican. Now they were in Florence looking at the tomb of Pope John XXIII.

The guide said the bewilderment on their faces.

"I'm sorry," he said. "I must explain. This is the tomb of a diet in Avignon both refused to Donatello and Michelozzo, two of the greatest Italian Renaissance sculptors, have given the antipope a magnificent tomb just outside the historic cathedral of Florence.

How did a man considered a false pope get such a fine tomb?

The antipope, born about 1370, was Baldassarre Cossa, son of a noble family of Naples. He was 3 when the "Great Schism" split the Roman Catholic Church. One pope, Clement VII, set up shop in Avignon, France; another, Urban VI, in Rome.

The schism continued through the reigns of Popes Boniface IX, Innocent VII and Gregory XII in Rome, while the antipope Benedict XIII succeeded Clement in Avignon.

Cossa, a youth of talent and energy, entered the service of the popes of Rome and became a cardinal at the age of 32. Seven years later he played an important part in the Council of Pisa, which sought to resolve the schism. Instead, it merely created another schismatic faction.

The council ruled that both Gregory XII at Rome and Benedict XIII in Avignon should be deposed. Then Cossa brought about the election of Alexander V, now considered an antipope. A year later, in 1410, Alexander died and Cossa was elected Pope John XXIII by the cardinals supporting him.

The schism had political overtones and Cossa had the solid support of the rich city of Florence, which was then building itself into a rival of Rome and of France.

But Gregory in Rome and Benedict XIII in Avignon both refused to abdicate. Gregory resigned to help resolve the schism.

Two years later, Martin V was elected pope and the schism ended.

Cossa paid homage to Martin, who returned the erstwhile Pope John XXIII to the cardinalate.

Cossa had long been a favorite of the flourishing Florentine Republic and he went to Florence to spend his last years. On his death, his magnificent tomb was ordered built by Cosimo de Medici, a founder of the powerful ruling family of Renaissance Florence.

Plan March Of Dimes Dance

The newly-organized, Kiwanis-sponsored Circle-K Club of MacMurray College is planning a dance, with proceeds to go to the March-of-Dimes. It was announced Saturday. Joe Grojean, local Kiwanian, is shown discussing their weekly meeting in Kathryn recreation room. Seated with him, left to right, are: Ed Myers, secretary; David Cassidy, president; and Dale Wolff, president of the men's student government, is standing.

In addition to Grojean, Bob Bills of the local Kiwanians of officially presented the dance suggestion to the MacMurray students at the meeting. The dance, tentatively set for the Hardin avenue field-house, will take place Feb. 27.

A Service Organization

Circle-K, begun at MacMurray this year, is not a social organization but a character building service club which offers service to the campus to the college and to the community. The club is internationally organized with the sanction and support of Kiwanis International. It is similar to Kiwanis in this respect, although it differs in the respect that Circle-K allows an opportunity through which the leaders and potential leaders of the college are given a chance to develop their leadership abilities by undertaking this program of service. Since its inception, Kiwanis has directed a great deal of its service program toward youth and its problems. The idea for Circle-K was first realized in 1936 in Washington and has grown slowly since. It was as late as 1956 that the board of trustees of Kiwanis International created the Circle-K department to correlate the Circle-K activities.

Masonic Lodge At Franklin To Attend Supper

FRANKLIN—The annual Masonic oyster supper for members and their families and the Eastern Star will be held in the dining room of the Methodist church on Thursday evening, Jan. 22, at 6:30. Each family is asked to bring a pie and large families two pies.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones and family have been staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Whitlock while Robert had a minor operation at the Passavant hospital. Soon after he returned, his wife was taken to the hospital but returned Monday. They were able to go to their own home Thursday.

Rev. and Mrs. George Garris attended the funeral of Mrs. Den Harmon, wife of Rev. Harmon at Louisville, Ill. Friday. Franklin and Durbin people were saddened to hear of her death as Rev. Harmon conducted revival meetings at both churches and met her and the children at that time.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Gilmore have entertained the following guests in their home this week: Mr. and Mrs. Hush Woodrum of Tallula on Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Brooks of Jacksonville and Rev. Gordon Blauvelt on Sunday evening and on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Dominick Shalla of Jacksonville and Mrs. Mary Pagano of St. Louis.

Mrs. Ralph Dahman and Mrs. Clarence Jewsbury were helpers at the Gift Shop in the Passavant hospital Friday night. The Evening Circle has decided to assist with this project at various times.

The WSCS of the Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. Gladys Dahman with Mrs. Maude Wiley as assistant hostess. The president, Mrs. Glenna Mae Whitlock called the meeting to order and roll call was answered by 13 members.

Mrs. Blanche Jewsbury had devotions, assisted by Mrs. Clara Camm. The program, "Rekindling the Gift," was also in charge of Mrs. Jewsbury and assisting her were Mrs. Myra Garris, Islam, A. Religion of Submission; Mrs. Nellie Gould, Hinduism, A Way of Life; Mrs. Gladys Dahman, Buddhism, A Religion of Compassion.

Several taking part in a question and answer period were taken by Mrs. Ruth Ranson on her recent trip around the world. After the business session lovely refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The Loyal Bearer class will meet at the home of Mrs. Essie Henderson on Wednesday, Jan. 21 at 7 o'clock.

Blindness Fails To Dim Brilliant Career Of French Organist

Jean Langlais, internationally known blind organist of St. Clothilde church in Paris, will appear in concert Wednesday, Jan. 21, at 8:15 p.m., in Annie Merner Chapel at MacMurray College.

He is the fourth attraction in the Jacksonville - MacMurray Music Association's remarkable concert series, which began last October with the Westminster Choir, extended through appearances by William Warfield and pianist Rosalyn Tureck, and will end Feb. 16 with the famed St. Louis Symphony Orchestra in Merner Chapel.

Happy Despite Affliction Currently in his fourth tour of the U. S., Langlais has proved that it is possible for an artist to lead a full and happy life despite a serious affliction. And, in addition to his own work, he has been continuously active in helping young people who suffer from the same handicap.

Langlais, who made his first appearance in the U. S. in 1951, teaches organ, composition and counterpoint at the National Institute for the Young Blind, and for the past 20 years has been director of a mixed choir of blind

Pilots Start Gigantic Civic Task

This week the Pilot Club of Jacksonville started work on addressing 10,000 envelopes that will later be filled with Easter Seals for the annual mailing list from the Morgan County Association for Crippled. Heretofore organizations many more times the size of the 15 member Pilot club have undertaken the hours of work involved. When arrangements were not successful for a larger group to volunteer, the Pilots offered their service. Shown above are 8 of the 15 Pilots. Seated front, l to r, Mrs. Emmett Barton, Miss Vera Seaton, Miss Margaret Riley and Mrs. Nelle Stout. Standing, Mrs. Arthur Samore, Miss Mary Walters, Mrs. Harold Henderson and Mrs. Marion Thorn. The Club is working under supervision of the Morgan County Association president, E. P. Pigott, and chairmanship of Pilot Mrs. C. Y. Rowe who provides quarters at Production Press for addressing of the unusually large mailing list. The work will cover a several week period as seals and correspondence must be folded, compiled and stuffed into envelopes and then sealed for mailing by the latter part of February.

Rev. Janvrin Pastor In Roodhouse 11 Years

ROODHOUSE—The Rev. H. L. Janvrin, his wife, and their one son, Ernest Ray, moved to Roodhouse, Jan. 15, 1948, to assume the pastorate of the First Baptist church. Since being here, Lois Marie and John Roy were born.

The Rev. Janvrin's stay in Roodhouse is above the average length of pastors in Baptist churches.

During the eleven years the Rev. Janvrin has been pastor of the First Baptist church, about $35,000.00 worth of improvements have been made at the church. Several of the outstanding improvements are: the spacious basement, the new stained glass windows, the sand-blasting, tuck-pointing, and water-proofing of the church.

During these eleven years over $122,000 has been given to the support of the Lord's work through the church. Of this, $30,206 went to outside causes such as mission work and institutions.

During this same period, 124 new members have been added to the membership of the church. The church school has doubled in size and the morning church attendance has revealed an increase each year.

Several years ago the Rev. Janvrin served as moderator of the West Central Association for two years. At present he is a member of the Evangelism Committee.

South Side Circle Hears About Carver

The South Side Circle was entertained Jan. 16 by Mrs. Mary Strawn at Southern Aire with three guests present, Mrs. Francis Plouer, Miss Hazel Strawn and Mrs. Percella Hutcheson.

The president, Mrs. E. A. Schoedack, opened the meeting with the reading of the secretary's report. After the business session the program chairman, Mrs. E. C. Slaughter, presented Mrs. Earl Underbrink who spoke on A Boy for a Horse. The subject dealt with George Washington Carver, stolen when an infant with his mother from a southern plantation owned by a Mr. Carver. In bargaining with the thief for return of the boy the transaction was completed with the trade of a racing horse.

The youthful Negro pawn of the situation educated himself, was devout and humble but rejected by his people. Intellectually a genius he developed his ability taking a cue from nature and producing Grade A milk from the peanut plant.

Carver is often referred to as an agriculture chemist, a Negro Burbank.

During the social hour refreshments were served.

Sunday School Class Has Supper At Chandlerville

CHANDLERVILLE—The Golden Rule Sunday School class of the Methodist church met Tuesday evening at the church and enjoyed a hamburger fry.

Each member brought a salad. There were 14 members and visitors present.

They drew for new Mystery Pals for the year of 1959 and revealed the pal's name for 1958. The election of officers will be held at the next meeting, with Mrs. Maude Alcorn as chairman of nominating committee, assisted by Mrs. Evan Garner and Mrs. Glenn Gabehard.

Hart - Pennock Nuptials In Pike

PITTSFIELD — An evening ceremony Friday, January nine at the First Christian church here united Miss Barbara J. Pennock and Michael A. Hart, both of Pittsfield. The groom is serving in the Navy and stationed at San Diego, California.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Pennock and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Cunningham.

The ceremony was performed by the Reverend Vernon Stout. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bryant of Springfield, sister and brother-in-law of the bride, served as the couple's attendants.

Ushers were Gary Hart, brother of the groom and John Pennock, brother of the bride.

The bride wore a waltz length gown of net and lace over satin. The snug bodice had three-quarter sleeves and a scalloped neckline. The skirt was lace and finished in scallops with a panel of ruffles down the back. Her lace headdress, adorned with sequins and pearls, held a fingertip length veil of silk illusion. She carried a small colonial arrangement of pink roses on net with her white Bible.

The bride's only adornment was a pearl necklace and matching earrings.

A reception was held in the dining room of the church following the ceremony.

On Sunday the newlyweds left for the West Coast. The groom received his diploma for high school after entering military service and Dec. 6, 1957 graduated from radio electronics school. The bride, a 1958 graduate of Pittsfield High School, was employed in the traffic department, General Telephone Company at Pittsfield, before her marriage.

On Radar, Missile (broken line) heads toward (X) for target intercept.

PATTERN FOR DEFENSE. Radar (1) detects enemy aircraft. The data it obtains goes via telephone line to an IBM computer (2) at the SAGE center. The computer tracks the enemy aircraft; on command, it fires the BOMARC automatically (3). During its supersonic flight it is guided by computer. When the missile nears target it is tipped into a steep dive by the computer. Missile then "locks on" target.

Automation in Defense

PUSH-BUTTON warfare, once only a dream, has arrived at last in the form of the supersonic BOMARC, a wholly-automated air defense missile that can be activated by the touch of a button nearly 1,500 miles from the launching site.

The BOMARC IM-99 is a rocket-launched, ground-to-air missile that will permit the Air Defense Command to destroy enemy aircraft great distances from the target. It has a range of more than 200 miles. Manufactured by the Boeing Airplane Company, the missile has a wing span of 18 feet, a length of 47 feet, and a diameter of 35 inches. It weighs about 15,000 pounds and is capable of carrying either a nuclear or a conventional warhead.

Long-range radar is used to detect and report the target. The radar returns are converted by an on-site data processor into range and bearing. This information is relayed via leased lines to the remote IBM/SAGE computer. The computer digests radar returns from all sources plus observer reports, flight plans and weather information. In seconds it translates the information into an overall picture of the situation.

From a point hundreds of miles away the BOMARC is actuated and fired by the computer after the foe has been located, identified and tracked. The missile is maneuvered automatically to the point where it dives on its target.

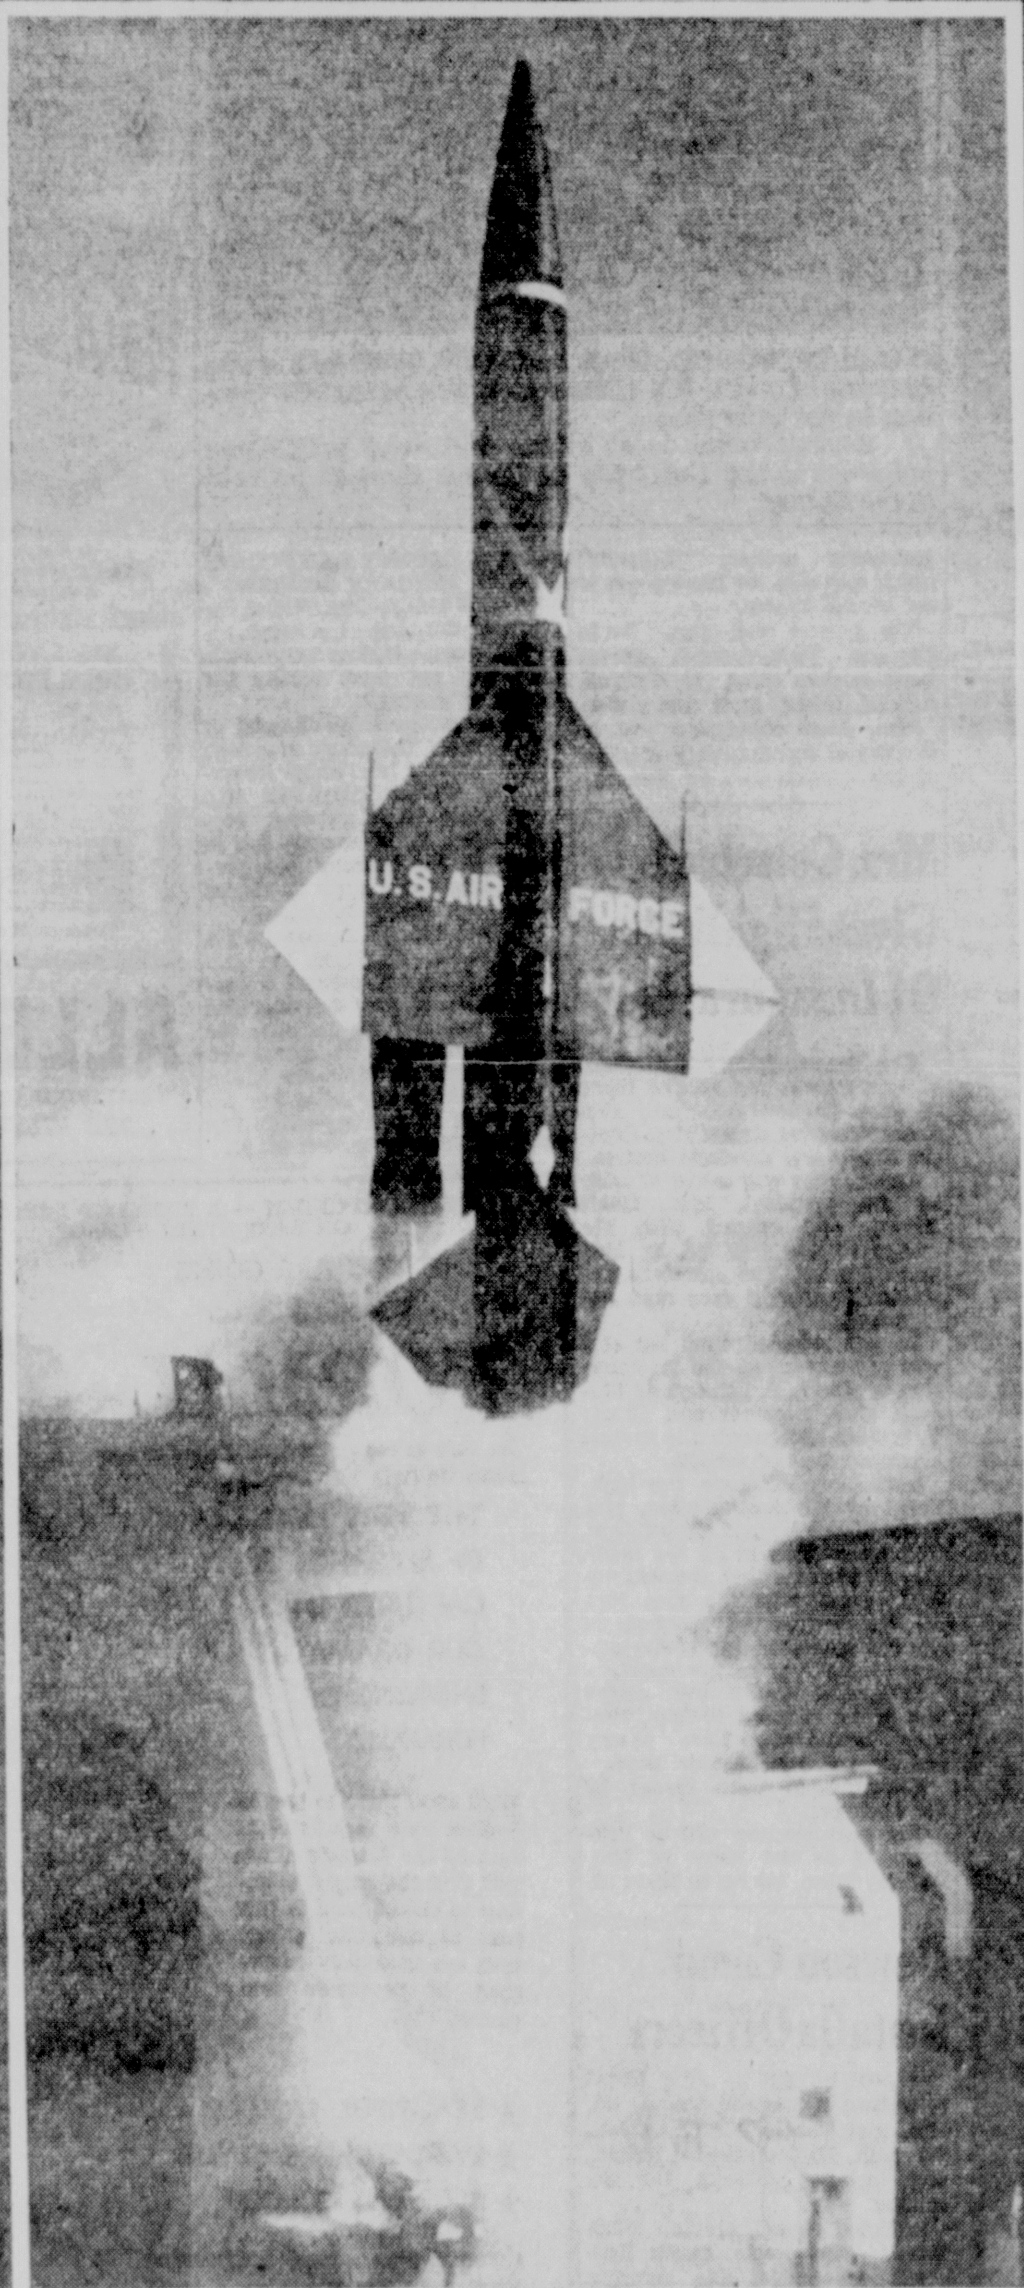

THIS IBM/SAGE AN/FSQ-7 computer at Kingston, N. Y., correlates information to track targets, and launch and guide intercepting BOMARCS.

THE FIRING LINE. The decision to fire BOMARC will come from a command post such as this one at Syracuse Air Force Station, N. Y. Under a general, this battle staff observes computer's aerial picture and movements of interceptor planes, missiles.

BOMARC IM-99 missile is shown being fired from tactical launcher shelter.

FRIEND OR FOE. From ground-based, air and seaborne radar stations that ring the U. S., all air movements are reported to command posts.

Visiting Rotarians from Jacksonville were Tom Cornish, Crit Hameline, and D. L. Hardin, Jacksonville. Mr. Hardin was accompanied by his son, Steve, Junior Rotarians Don Welch and G. D. Jones were also present.

Meeting Jan. 22
The Sacred Heart club of the St. Athanasius Catholic church will meet Thursday afternoon, Jan. 22, at the home of Mrs. Mary Hornbeck. Mrs. Mollie Todd is president of the club.

Adell Rebekah lodge will hold a school of instruction on Monday night following the pollock supper. The supper will be served at 6:30 and the school will open at 7:30 with Mrs. Thelma Bell, Carrollton, serving as the instructor.

Former Greene County Men Receive Honors

GREENFIELD—Raymond S. Holmes, son of the late Virgil L. Holmes and Mrs. Bernice Holmes Bandy of Granite City, Ill., has been appointed vice president for research and development of the Winchester-Western division, Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation.

Holmes has been director of research and development for Winchester-Western. Holmes was educated in the Greenfield schools and after graduating from the Greenfield High School and Eureka College, Eureka, Ill., he did graduate work in physics at Washington University in St. Louis. He joined the former Western Cartridge Co. in East Alton in 1934 as physics laboratory technician in the Olin ballistics laboratory and in 1952 was made supervisor of that area, and later in 1952 he was transferred to the New Haven, Conn. operations of the then Olin Industries Inc., as manager of ammunition research. In 1956 he was named manager of the research and development department of Winchester-Western.

Harry E. Brown has been honored in commemoration of 35 years service at Shell Oil Company in Roxana. Brown, shift foreman in the thermal cracking department has resided in the Alton area.

He was born in Greenfield, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brown and attended the local schools. He was married to the former May Cross of Louisiana, Mo., in 1926 and they have three children.

Brown is a member of the Eagles of Jerseyville and at the plant he is active in the Service Club, Shell Club and Recreation Association.

He started with Shell in 1923 as a sample boy in the laboratory and in 1924 was transferred to the cracking department where he has spent the rest of his career. He was a fireman helper, pressman and stillman helper before being promoted to stillman in 1930. He has been a shift foreman since 1948.

The Greenfield Woman's club met Wednesday afternoon in the Baptist church annex. Mrs. Robert Parks, chairman of the American Home Department arranged the program which featured a demonstration by a sewing company of Jacksonville.

Hostesses were: Mrs. Andrew Dalton, Mrs. Guy F. Wilhite, Mrs. Ralph Pennington, Mrs. Joe Longmeyer, Mrs. J. E. Rank, Mrs. J. M. Hedgecock and Miss Elita Mae Edwards.

Assistant Farm Adviser Honored At Carrollton
CARROLLTON—Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Randall, who are leaving here January 24 for Champaign to make their home, were honored at a farewell dinner Thursday evening given by the Green County Rural Youth members in the Colonial Room of Day's Cafe. Randall has resigned his position as assistant Green County farm adviser in order to complete work on his master's degree at the University of Illinois. The Randalls were presented a gift by the youth organization members 25 of whom were present.

Attend Farm Meeting
Farm Adviser John Bicket and Mrs. John Bicket and assistant farm adviser Roscoe Randall and Mrs. Randall went to Winchester Friday afternoon to attend a dinner meeting of the District Farm Advisers Association at which Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hewitt were hosts and hostesses. Bicket, who is a director from this district to the state farm adviser's organization presided during the business meeting and program.

First License Issued
The first marriage license of the year 1959 was issued January 14 in the office of County Clerk Ray Bennett to Carl L. Phillips, Carrollton and Miss Wanda Guthrie of Rockbridge. The first license issued in the county prior to this year was December 30 to Melvin Wesley Hartcock of Greenfield and Miss Mary Lou Fry also of Rockbridge.

Area Artists Receive Recognition

John Hawkins, art instructor from Illinois College, on left, watches Walter Johnson, associate professor of architectural drawing at U. of I., attach the grand prize of the show at the Area Artists Amateur Show which will conclude January 24 at the Strawn Art Center. Johnson was judge for the show which was held in conjunction with the U. of I. sponsored Town and Country Art Show to be held in the Spring. Jacksonville will send ten entries to the show. This is the first year Jacksonville has been included in the statewide event.

The grand prize painting is the work of Alan Cain who was not present for the show since he is out of the city attending college.

CHEESE ANYONE is the title for this wood carving by John Ward. The carving received honorable mention in the show. The carving started as a short piece of redwood fence post.

Mrs. C. Thompson Gives Program At Arcadia Club

"Birds of the Bible" was the subject of the program at the Arcadia Woman's Club January meeting. The Scriptures are filled with references to birds, their characteristics and descriptions.

Then, as now, birds have served mankind. Otherwise, insects would have devoured the fruit and vegetation on which our forebears subsisted.

The dove and the eagle were used many times to express comparison, and the Bible devotes more space to them than any other birds. Mrs. Clarence Thompson gave this interesting program at the Arcadia hall on Wednesday, Jan. 14.

Mrs. Loren Burrus presided at the meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Harold McGinnis. Mrs. Fred Standley, music chairman, led the song, "Faith of Our Fathers." The pledge of allegiance followed.

Roll call was answered by 16 members and two guests, naming a bird. Guests were Mrs. Lawrence Mallicoate and Mrs. Coy Stice.

Mrs. Roscoe Goodpasture led the club prayer. Mrs. Ireland Thompson read minutes and several thank you notes.

The budget committee was instructed to have the club payment to the District 20 treasurer by Feb. 1. Mrs. Burrus announced the club is to furnish cookies to Lincoln Lodge, Marquette Boy's Home the week of June 1-8.

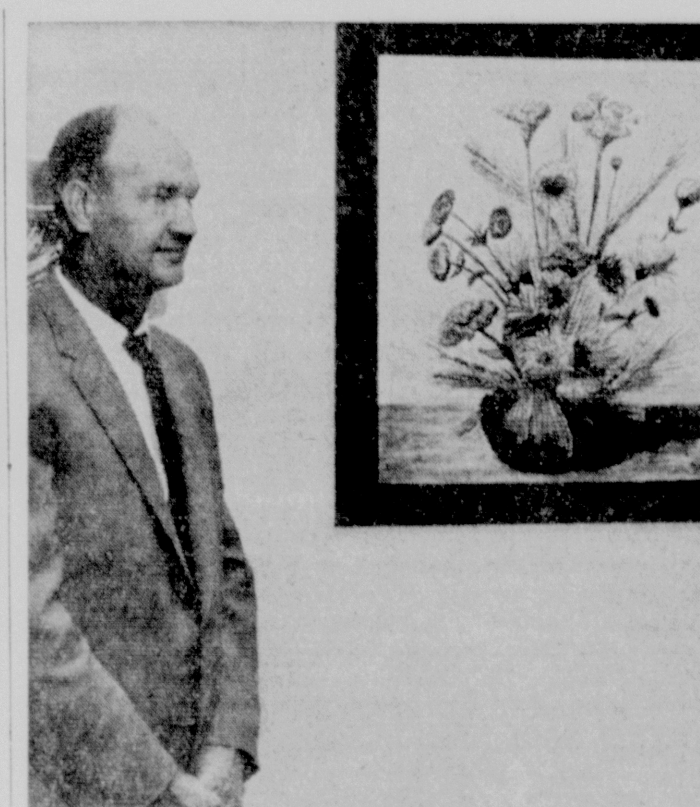

Mrs. Ireland Thompson, American home chairman, spoke of the "National Sewing Contest." Any Federation Club member may enter. It is worthy of consideration. The club voted unanimously to renew subscription to the Illinois Clubwoman magazine. The collect was repeated in unison.

Mrs. Arthur Kershaw read an

Wins Citizenship Award

CHARLES L. MORRIS, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Morris, 670 Caldwell street, Jacksonville, Ill., accepts the Reserve Officer Association citizenship award from Maj. Gen. Lloyd P. Hopwood, the USAF director of personnel training. Presentation at Lackland AFB, Tex., was part of pre-commissioning exercises for OCS Class 58-D final graduation of the year from the Air Force school.

CHARLES MOORE stands beside his black and white drawing of a still life scene which won honorable mention in the area show.

Several other local artists will send prints and paintings to the University of Illinois show to be held in the Spring.

Greene County Democrats Cancel January Meeting

WHITE HALL—Mrs. Geraldine Thelen of Carrollton has announced the Greene County Democratic Club will not meet during the month of January.

The members of BJ Chapter of P.E.O. met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ralph Thomas. Mrs. Gladys Kittel and Mrs. Ethel Ross were assistant hostesses. Mrs. R. F. Barnett was in charge of the program and presented four piano duets by Donna Shive and Sherry Pilkington.

Mrs. Gotschall Gives Highlights Of Inauguration

The Morgan County Democratic Woman's Club met at the home of Mrs. Eunice Gotschall, 1003 South Diamond street, Mrs. Frances Brooks was assistant hostess.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Mable Brown, and opened with the pledge to the flag led by Miss Hazel Strawn. The secretary and treasurer's reports were read and approved.

It was reported that the club was represented at the inauguration of Joseph P. Lohman of Chicago, state treasurer and George T. Wilkins of Edwardsville as state superintendent of schools.

Mrs. Gotschall gave the highlights of the inauguration. Mrs. Belva Hackley, state chairwoman, sent her regards to all the members and regrets that she was unable to visit with the club. Mrs. Hackley invited the members of the club sometime during the general assembly to be her guest.

Progressive bunco was played and prizes awarded to Mrs. Bernice Dodsworth. Mrs. Mary Strawn and Miss Fannie Boyd.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The next meeting will be February 10 at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Winn, 839 North Main St.

Chicago Livestock Market Report

CHICAGO (AP)—(USDA)—Here is a summary for the week of the hog, cattle and sheep markets and estimated receipts for today:

Hogs 100; for the week: Barrows and gilts 25-75, mostly 50-75 lower, some 25-50 lower. At the close a small lot selected 200 lb butchers brought 17.75, otherwise, No 1 and 2 190-220 lb weights brought 17.00-17.50, mixed No 2 and 3 200-230 lbs 16.50-17.00, No 2 and 3 240-260 lbs 16.00-16.50 and same grades 270-300 lbs 15.50-16.00, heaves ranging up to 340 lbs sold downward to 14.75. Mixed grades 330-350 lbs sows closed at 13.00-13.50.

Cattle 100; for the week: Moderate supply prime 1025-1350 lb slaughter steers 30.25-30.75, bulk choice and prime steers 26.50-30.00 according to weight, mixed choice and prime 1400-1525 lb 27.00-29.25, good steers closed at 24.50-28.00. Few mixed good and choice 900-950 lb steer yearlings sold as high as 28.50, standard steers largely 24.00-26.50, few loads choice and prime steers 28.75 and 29.00, bulk good and choice heifers 25.50-28.50. Few standard cows 20.50-23.00, utility and commercial cows closed at 17.50-20.50, late bulk canners and cutters 15.50-18.00. Most utility and commercial bulls 24.50-27.00, these prices highest since 1952, but close trade largely 23.50-26.50. Good and choice vealers closed at 32.00-35.00, utility and standard grades 21.00-32.00.

Sheep none; for the week: At the close bulk good and choice 90-120 lb woolers, slaughter lambs 17.50-19.00, several shipments earlier in the week 19.50 and few 19.75. Few loads choice 112-128 lb wooled slaughter lambs 17.00-18.00 and few cull to low good below 110 lbs 13.50-17.00. Good to mostly choice 85-100 lb shorn slaughter lambs mostly with No 1 pelts 17.50-18.00, few choice 18.25 and few 110-120 lb choice 16.50-17.00. Cull to choice slaughter ewes 6.00-7.50.

CHICAGO (AP)—The supply of butcher hogs here this week was among the largest for any week in more than a year and prices of barrows and gilts declined 25 to 75 cents a hundredweight.

At the same time, the 12 major markets received a total of 435,000 head, the heaviest run since November 1956. In Chicago, the offerings were 53,500 head, 1,000 more than in the first week of December which was the largest supply of 1953.

The average cost of all butcher grades on Monday dropped to $16.46 a hundredweight and the top price was $17.75, both the lowest since in November 1957.

Shipper demand for the week was not more moderate.

The cattle supply was the largest in six weeks but it included the smallest percentage of prime grade since August. Offerings of choice grade also were relatively smaller while there was an increase of all grade choice and below.

Prices for the week were generally steady to 50 cents higher except for choice 55-500 head, lower grades over 1,300 lbs which declined 50 cents.

Offerings on the sheep market in Chicago were down about 20 per cent from the previous week but for the 12 major markets they were the largest since October 1954. Carcass lamb prices in Chicago were as much as $2 a hundredweight lower, adding to the market's bearishness.

The Chicago supply was about 86 per cent slaughter lambs and this class was mostly $1 lower for the week while ewe prices held steady.

New York Stock Market

By ED MORSE
AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market this week made headway against considerable selling of a precautionary future and posted still another record high.

It was the market's seventh consecutive weekly advance. This was accomplished despite the fact that the market rose on only two of the five trading days.

Some of the blue chips which have forged substantial gains fell victim to profit taking. But a number of secondary issues came to the fore and advanced widely.

The week was one of intense activity, reflecting shifts in important portfolios, speculation and reinvestment.

Volume swelled to 21,015,000 shares, heaviest for any week since the one ended last Oct. 19 when 24,022,570 shares changed hands.

The Associated Press average of 46 stocks rose $1.10 to $219.20. On Thursday it touched a record peak of $219.40.

The Dow Jones industrial average closed the week at a record high of 395.75.

The market action was fortified by a December rise in two key economic indicators, industrial production and housing starts. Personal income declined slightly from its record November rate.

News on specific stocks as well as Wall Street gossip had considerable influence on price movements.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds closed lower this week in the wake of the big Treasury financing.

Investment quality corporates and utilities were off sharply, either at or just below 1953-54 lows on the AP bond index. Industrials, utilities and foreign bonds edged higher but not enough to counterbalance slumps of the other two.

Corporate trading volume mounted to $36,405,000 par value on the New York Stock Exchange from $37,986,500 the previous week and $25,613,000 for the corresponding week in 1953.

DEALINGS IN GRAIN FUTURES HIT SLOW PACE LAST WEEK

By GIL MAYO
AP Business News Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—Dealings in grain futures seldom have hit the slow pace they did this week on the Board of Trade. Influences for the most part were speculative and obscure as domestic and export buying dropped almost to nothing.

The most significant bullish influences were in soybeans and the best gains of the week were in that commodity. Net advances up to more than $3 a ton in the soybean meal market had a rather strong effect on soybean prices early in the week.

After the soybean meal market appeared to have topped out and prices slipped moderately, brokers again became bullish on soybeans in expectation of two favorable government reports.

The sudden end of export buying of wheat caused fairly broad selling on most days although brokers frequently called attention to large authorizations still outstanding for purchases in the United States.

At the end of the week, wheat was 1 1/2 cents a bushel lower to 1/4 higher than a week ago. March 1956-57, corn 1/4 higher to 1/4 lower. March old type contract $1.14 1/4; oats 1/4 higher to 1/4 lower. March 66 1/4-74, rye unchanged to 1/4 higher. March $1.36, and soybeans 2 cents higher to 1/4 lower. January $2.16 1/4.

SALES TAX TABLE FOR COMPUTING INCOME TAX

CHICAGO (AP)—To help Illinois residents compute their federal income tax the Chicago Retail Merchants Assn. has worked out a table of normal deductions for payment of the state sales tax.

The table is based upon payment of a 3 per cent tax on retail purchases. It is applicable to residents of communities having a 3 cent municipal sales tax. The state tax is 2 1/2 per cent.

Residents of communities having no municipal sales tax can compute a 2 1/2 per cent deduction by subtracting one-sixth of the estimated payment for any given income and dependent status figure.

The Internal Revenue Service has taken no stand on the association table but allows a reasonable deduction for sales taxes paid. The association said it considers the table consists of reasonable amounts.

The table applies to single, head of household and joint returns.

ESTIMATED RECEIPTS

CHICAGO (AP)—Estimated livestock receipts for Monday are 14,000 hogs, 21,000 cattle and 4,500 sheep.

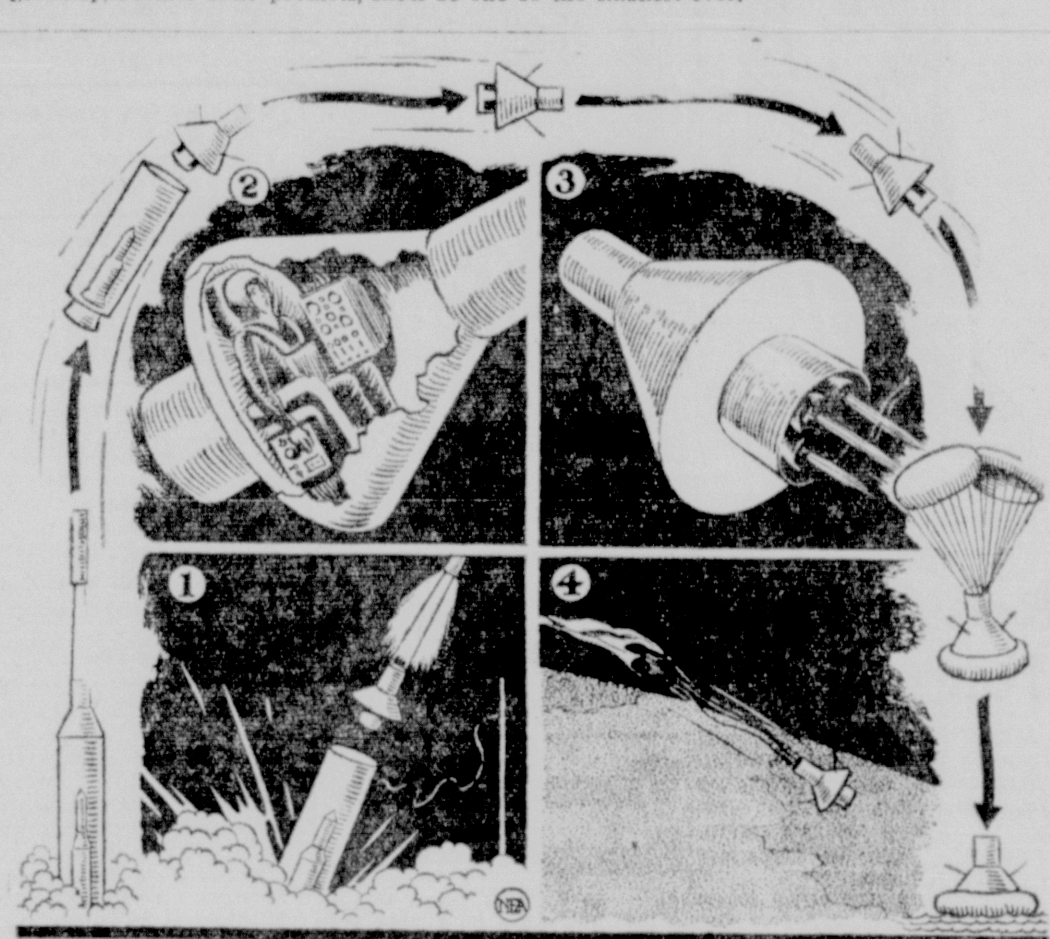

A simple and flavorful way of preparing fish fillets is to dot them with butter top with sliced mushrooms or salt scallions; then put them in an air-tight packet of aluminum foil and bake in a hot oven 20 minutes or until packets puff up. Slit the top of packet to serve.

THE LITTLEST PONY — William Hine keeps a rope tether on two ponies—mother and daughter—in White Water, Ohio. But, for the little one, it might as well be a dog leash. Baby weighed in at 16 pounds the day she was born, and was 16 inches long, 16 inches high. Now, a couple of months later, she's fatter, sort of broadened out, and higher. But even as a grownup, Farmer Hine predicts, she'll be one of the smallest ever.

HOW MAN WILL DO IT—Drawings above enact the firing of America's first manned satellite, "Project Mercury"—as it will happen within two years. Border sketches, linked by arrows, trace its path from start to finish. Numbered drawings illustrate safety features: (1) At launch, "escape" rocket is attached to capsule's nose. If anything goes wrong, it hurls capsule up and away from pad and a parachute opens. Otherwise, escape rocket is dropped in flight. (2) Inside his heat-shielded cabin, pilot is forced against fitted couch under nine times the force of gravity during blast-off. (3) Ready to descend from its 100 to 150-mile-high orbit, small rockets flip capsule around so that pilot is facing backward. Reverse-firing rockets brake its speed. (4) Parachutes lower capsule gently to ocean, where inflatable rubber pad cushions and floats it. All these devices are designed to be operated by pilot or by radio from ground.

News Notes From JHS

By
Connie Hazelrigg and Donna Woodruff

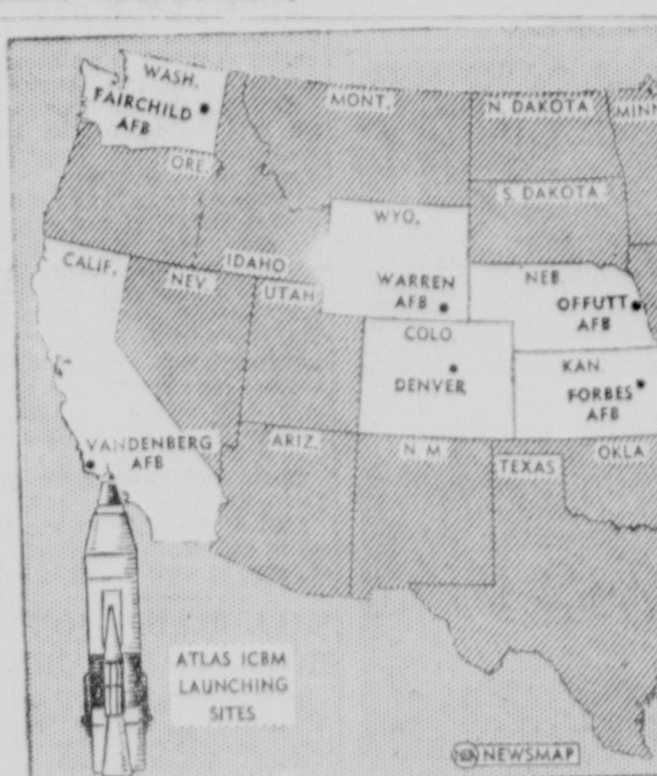

Two active Juniors have been chosen as Prom Chairmen. They are Mary Beth Hayes and Bill Sanders. They will be aided by committees chosen from the Junior class.

Senior Mary Stewart has the honor of representing JHS in the state contest for the Homemaker of Tomorrow. State winners will receive scholarships and be eligible to enter national competition.

Next year's "J" editors were announced on Friday after selection from student applications. The two Juniors are Mary Holman and Becky Fortado. They will have the advantage of working with the 1959 staff during the second semester to gain experience.

Congratulations to our honored Girl Scouts. Senior Carol Abbott and Junior Virginia Gronseth have been chosen as delegates to the Senior Scout Roundup in Colorado Springs next July. These girls and the alternates, Gail Ward and Charlet Crocker, sophomores, will receive special training to prepare for the event.

Don't miss the Junior Play at 8:00 P.M. January 23, in the JHS Auditorium. The presentation will be a P. G. Wodehouse comedy entitled, "Uncle Fred Flits By".

THE BIG PUNCH—Following up the recent successful 6,300-mile test flight of America's huge Atlas missile, the Air Force has announced plans for constructing six launching sites at widespread points in the West. Map above locates the scattered installations at five air bases and one site near Denver. With a 6,300-mile reach, the Atlas could blanket almost all of Russia.

FISH DISHES BAKED FOR SINCLAIR BUREAU UNIT

The Sinclair Unit of Home Bureau met January 14 at the home of Mrs. Roy Robinson. The major lesson on "Fish Cookery" was presented by Mrs. N. Nelson and Mrs. Earl Baxter.

Mrs. Nelson discussed the buying, care, preparation of fish both canned and fresh. They prepared three dishes, Tuna and Corn casserole, New England Fish Chowder and baked fish steaks.

Mrs. Helen Farmer gave the minor lesson "Improving Your Memory." A memory test game was played and won by Mrs. Harold Cully.

Recreation was enjoyed. Eleven members answered roll call. Next meeting will be February 12 at the home of Mrs. Harold Swain.

Labor Paper Raps Leaders Who Met, Ate With Mikoyan

CHICAGO (AP)—The Federation News, weekly publication of the AFL-CIO Federation of Labor, Saturday severely criticized American labor leaders who met and lunched with Anastas I. Mikoyan, Russia's first Deputy Premier, in Washington.

The Federation News, edited by Irwin E. Klass, asked:

"Who made the most repulsive spectacles of themselves during the visit (self invited) of Mikoyan—the egg throwers, or the fawning leaders from business and labor and fading clowns from the entertainment world who fought their way into camera range with the man from Moscow?"

"Why should representatives of free labor act like social climbing hostesses eager to have a 'title' at their dinner tables?"

The News listed those at the luncheon as James B. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers and an AFL-CIO vice president; Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers; William C. Doherty, president of the Letter Carriers, and Karl A. Feller, president of the Brewery Workers.

The editorial said George Meany, AFL-CIO president who refused to attend the luncheon, has described Mikoyan as "one of the Soviet leaders who got Hungary to end its rebellion under a flag of truce, then captured the freedom fighters." The News continued:

"Yet a press release from James Carey's office after the Mikoyan luncheon spoke of it as a 'bare knuckles session.' What defense could bare knuckles provide against a leader of a regime which President Meany charges with using deceit, subversion, violence, terror, conquest and enslavement as weapons?"

The editorial pointed out labor leaders in Chicago refused to take part in the welcome given to Mikoyan.

Klass said the editorial had the full endorsement of William A. Lee, president of the Chicago Federation of Labor.

The Concord Junior Women's Club met Tuesday evening, Jan. 13, at the home of Mrs. Robert Nickel. Mrs. Paul Hess served as assistant hostess. The meeting was opened with the club pledge and devotions given by Mrs. Robert Birdsell.

The date of January 24 was set for the bake sale to be held at Kershaw's store in Concord. A committee of four was appointed to prepare for the ward party at the State Hospital to be held during February. Thank you notes were read from Marquette Boys' Home for cookies sent during December and from the recipients of the Christmas fruit baskets. Items for sport and recreation were brought to be sent to Nemaqua Lodge for Girls.

The president reminded the club to bring stamps to the February meeting and also of the rummage sale to be held February 14. The speaker for the evening, Mrs. Hazel Graves, was unable to be present due to inclement weather.

Mrs. Robert McAllister filled in with the showing of several films. Mrs. Robert Kircher was a guest. A parliamentary quiz was conducted by Mrs. Charles Elliott and recreation led by Mrs. David Newby.

Greenfield Pony Wins National Magazine Award

GREENFIELD — A yearling Shetland pony, Ponyland's Towncrier, owned by Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Seekamp of this city, has been named the National Champion All-Star by the American Shetland Pony Journal and All American Shetland Yearling by Your Pony magazine. The tabulation is made by results of Shetland shows during 1958.

Towncrier was Grand Champion at Greenville, Reserve Champion at Milledgeville and Junior Champion at the largest show ever held at St. Charles. He won Reserve Junior Champion at Rising Sun, Md. in May and also at the Eastern Pony Congress, Rising Sun, Md. He was also Reserve Junior Champion at the Iowa State Fair, Greenville, Illinois State Fair and was judged best yearling at Port Deposit, Md.

Miss Emma Jane Solomon, granddaughter of Mrs. Blanche Solomon and a student of Greenfield High School and Mrs. Howard Houlette attended the preview tea for exhibiting artists and Jacksonville Art association membership held Sunday afternoon at the Strawn Art Center at Jacksonville.

Mrs. Houlette's oil painting "Goldenrod" belonging to Mrs. Clyde Land won honorable mention and is among the 18 pieces selected to be shown in the Town and Country exhibit at Urbana April 2, 3 and 4. Another oil painting and two water colors by Mrs. Houlette who has won many blue ribbons for her art will also be displayed. Miss Solomon has one oil, two water colors and one drawing on exhibit which are receiving many favorable comments.

Work was started Monday on the razing of the ruins of the Methodist church. Members of the official board of the church met Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Perkins and a joint meeting of the building and finance committees were held Thursday night in the Public Library. Plans are progressing for building a new church on the site of the church destroyed by fire Nov. 28.

KOBIERANSKI MILITARY RITES SATURDAY MORNING

Funeral mass was said for Benjamin Kobieranski at Our Saviour's church Saturday morning at 8:30. Interment was in Calvary cemetery, following a military service by the American Legion Post 279.

Burial squad consisted of Commander George Vasconcellos; vice commander, Darrel Berline; Chaplain, Robert Reid; Officer of the Day, Joe Palgrove.

LAUNCH DRIVE TO ORGANIZE SEARS EMPLOYEES
DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A nation wide drive to organize employees of Sears, Roebuck & Co., will begin Jan. 27. Teamsters' Union Vice President M. W. (Dusty) Miller said here Friday.

Miller was named to head the national drive by President J. Edgar Hoover.

Intense Cold Follows Snow In Midwest, East

Northern New England was the last section of the East to feel the bite of a cold wave that spread eastward from the Midwest. Millinocket, Maine, and Tallahassee, Fla., had identical temperatures of 34 degrees Saturday afternoon.

But upper areas of the Midwest bore the brunt of the arctic blast. Bemidji, Minn., had an overnight low of -30 and midday readings in northern Minnesota were 12 to 16 below zero. The sub-zero cold extended southward into Iowa.

Miami managed to climb to 36 degrees but afternoon readings in the 30s were scattered along the Gulf Coast. The mercury remained in the teens in Tennessee and the North Carolina mountains. Milder air flowed down the eastern slopes of the Rockies running afternoon temperatures above the freezing mark. Rapid City, S.D., had a reading of 40.

Another cold night was in store for the eastern half of the nation, with below-freezing temperatures expected over much of Florida.

Dirksen Backs Ike's Budget

He said, for instance, the area redevelopment program is of special interest in Illinois, where mining has been abandoned in some areas with resultant unemployment and business stagnation.

Democrats sponsored a 200-million-dollar outlay last year for development of new industries in such areas. Eisenhower vetoed it.

Dirksen said the Commerce Department had completed a survey of the need and recommended what he called a well rounded program which would cost only about 50 million dollars.

He said Democrats and Republicans agree there should be federal assistance toward enlarging airports to accommodate the jet aircraft now coming into commercial use.

Three Perish In Hotel Fire

The flames apparently had broken out in a partition near a hat shop on the lobby floor.

Adler said $150,000 would be a conservative estimate of the damage.

Herbert Cummings, 64, of Windsor, Vt., a machine tool engineering salesman who was on the seventh floor, said he was awakened by screams.

"I opened the door of my room, and the smoke was so thick in the hallway that I had to crawl on my hands and knees to a fire escape," he said. "I made it down the fire escape to a second floor ledge where 10 elderly women who live at the hotel were huddled. Firemen took them down ladders. Some wanted to jump, and firemen had to calm them."

Illinois Resumes Fight To Divert Water From Lake

CHICAGO (AP)—Illinois plans to resume its legal fight Monday for continued withdrawal of water from Lake Michigan.

The lake now is tapped at Chicago for 1,500 cubic feet of water per second taken in at the mouth of the Chicago River and passed along down the Illinois Waterway. An additional diversion that averaged 1,700 cubic feet per second last year is used for domestic pumpage. That water courses through pipes to kitchens, bathrooms and other outlets. Then, after it is run through sewage treatment plants, it also is sent down the waterway.

Six states — Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York — are seeking to compel Chicago and the state to return the used and cleansed water to the lake.

The six states claim that diversion lowers Great Lakes levels. Illinois and the Metropolitan Sanitary District of Greater Chicago will reply in a brief to be filed Monday in the U.S. Supreme Court in Washington. They will contend, among other things, the remedy sought by the other states would require costly facilities and the result would be unsatisfactory.

CASTRO WARNS U.S. AGAINST ATTEMPTING TO STOP EXECUTIONS

He called for a rally here Wednesday of half a million Cubans, representing labor unions, students, and civic and industrial groups.

He said this would be a mass meeting to support justice and "to demand that the United States return the war criminals"—Batista followers who have fled to the United States.

Castro estimated that no more than 450 Batistas would face revolutionary firing squads. The unofficial total of executions already stands at 205.

The executions brought protests in the United States.

In his speech Castro said that "if they (the United States) want good relations, let them begin by not menacing us. . . . If they want good relations, the first thing they have to do is respect our sovereignty and never again speak of intervention."

Crippled TWA Airliner Makes Safe Landing

As he circled the city Capt. Schaeffer communicated, "I've lost my hydraulic pressure. My right gear is up and can't be lowered. The left one is down and won't come up, and the nose wheel is partly retracted and stuck. We have a fluid leak. We're trying to block off the line to save fluid and build up some pressure to operate the gear."

This was done eventually, thanks to a souvenir Mexican penny. TWA engineers on the ground told Schaeffer to try to find an object to block the line so the pressure could build up. The penny did the trick.

The flight began at Washington and was to have terminated at St. Louis.

INFANT FREEZES TO DEATH IN BED

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A 6-month-old baby froze to death in his bed here Saturday.

A medical examination said Willie James Taft kicked the covers off his bed in the unheated rear bedroom of his home and died of exposure. The temperature was around 70 degrees.

The child's mother left him in bed when she went to work. A neighbor checked on the child at 7 and 9 a.m., but did not pick him up, officers said.

SON RUNS AWAY

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A father with worry in his voice called the Knoxville Journal Friday night and asked if he could "run a piece in the paper about my boy."

"He ran away from home Thursday and we haven't heard from him since," he explained. "I want

Harry Grayson's SCOREBOARD

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The election of Albie Pearson as the of good ballplayers still exists. The five-foot five-and-a-half, 140-pound American League Rookie-of-the-Year would indicate that the dearth center fielder drove in 38 runs helping Washington finish dead last and 31 games off.

The plucky Pearson had to overcome lack of size and captured the imagination of the electorate with spectacular catches.

But scouts tell you that bigger and better packages are coming up in both major leagues. This year's batch will be considerably better than last, and all that bonus money and aggressive beating of the bushes has to pay rich dividends in another year or two. Suddenly there will be a lot of stickout performers, the fox foragers contend.

The White Sox have one this year, they report, in Johnny Callison, an outfielder who came along rapidly to lead the American Association in home runs with 28. He already has been tapped for 1959 Rookie-of-the-Year.

Slim Vada Pinson, who hopped from Class C to attract attention last spring, now is pronounced ready to add a tremendous burst of speed to the Cincinnati outfield. The Reds also are bringing up Jim O'Toole, who was the minor league pitcher of the year, but the young southpaw no doubt requires further seasoning.

THE LAD MOST LIKELY to succeed with the Braves is Eddie Haas, the outfielder who enjoyed a splendid year with Wichita after being acquired from the Cubs in the Bob Rush deal. Bob Hartman won 20 games for Atlanta.

The Phillies got an accomplished second baseman in their swap with the Dodgers in Sparky George Anderson, who spent last summer in Montreal, but it's the old question — will he hit? Jim Owens, coming out of the service, only has to reach the proper level of aspiration to be the equal of Robin Roberts.

Johnny Blanchard has to stay with the Yankees because they can't farm out this splendid catcher another time. The Bombers have another potential big right-hand hitting outfielder in Deron Johnson, but this kid needs more polishing. Johnny Gable, a pitcher, has a chance.

Ron Hansen, Baltimore recruit shortstop, hit six home runs in 28 many games in Venezuela.

PITTSBURGH IS COUNTING on Charley (Whammy) Douglas, a pitcher, and rather likes another in George Perez, but Jim McDaniel, an outfielder who led the Pacific Coast League in home runs, also struck out 101 times. St. Louis is going to take a good look at Lee Tate, a shortstop who batted .292 for Omaha. Los Angeles sees possibilities in Outfielder Ron Fairly, but this collegian first must be given a fair chance in the minors.

First Baseman Willie McCovey batted .319 for Phoenix and will lead to batting on the part of the Giants, where Orlando Cepeda is there to stay and Bill White is playing the outfield.

Lon Klinebeck and Johnny Schaive will play second base for Kansas City and Washington, respectively, if for no other reason than that these clubs have no one else.

CARROLL HARDY, who has been discharged by the Army, definitely is a Cleveland outfield prospect and Dick Stigman can pitch a little. Heywood Sullivan, Jim Pagliaroni and Jerry Zimmerman represent $200,000 in bonus bullion, swell the number of Red Sox catchers to seven, and only Sullivan has the slightest chance to stick around. Detroit couldn't have thought too much of Third Baseman Steve Demeter when it traded for Eddie Yost and Rocky Bridges.

But bigger and better packages than Albie Pearson are coming — let's hope.

There is plenty of room for all hands.

Col. Edward Baker, Dean Of Harness Racing Dies

ST. CHARLES, Ill. (AP)—Col. Edward J. Baker, multi-millionaire dean of harness racing, died Saturday at the age of 90.

Although many times a millionaire, he was little known outside the circles of standard bred horsemen and residents of St. Charles, his home town of 8,000 in northern Illinois. Fox River Valley on which he showered favors.

Col. Baker was best known as the owner of Greyhound, the big gray stallion whose one-mile trotting record of 1:53½ has stood since 1938.

He acquired a $6-million dollar fortune at the age of 50 from his sister, Dellora Baker Gates, when she died in 1918. The estate was that of her husband, John W. (Bet-A-Million) Gates, Chicago steel and railroad tycoon, who left it to her when he died in 1911.

Baker, born on a farm a few miles west of St. Charles, once was a government grain inspector who commuted to his job in Chicago's Board of Trade from his own farm near St. Charles.

Baker told friends that despite the fortune, "I'm just a farmer." He bought and operated eight farms, totaling 1,300 acres, all of them in the St. Charles area. He divided his time between harness race meetings and experimentation on his farms in dairying methods, animal husbandry, and soil development.

He purchased Greyhound in 1924 at a Kentucky auction for $900.

Between 1934 and 1941, when trotting's "Gray Ghost" was turned out to grass on one of Baker's farms, the stallion competed in 22 trotting events, winning 71 of them.

Greyhound won the Hambletonian, the Kentucky Derby of the sulky world, in 1935, taking both heats of the event for 2-year-olds in Goshen, N.Y. Despite his record, Greyhound earned only $38,952 in purses during his career.

Purses of the events he won were slim compared with those of today.

The horse survives his owner. Baker's philanthropies in St. Charles included $14 million dollar building of a First Methodist church as a memorial to his parents; contributing $200,000 for a municipal building, $100,000 for a four-lane bridge over the Fox River, $100,000 for public and parochial school improvements, and $100,000 to the city, with no strings attached, for the benefit of its residents last year.

This last bounty came after Baker's neighbors bought a tract opposite the church he built and good tender.

Farm Bureau To Sponsor Bowling For Tournaments

The Illinois Farm Sports Festival will hold district bowling tournaments in February. The winners of the district bowling tournaments will go to the state finals in March.

All bowling will be on scratch basis. No handicaps scores will be used. The Farm Bureau will pay the entry fees and participants will pay any other personal expenses.

Anyone who is eligible and wishes, is invited to come to the Bowl-Inn, 224 North East St., Jacksonville, on Thursday, Jan. 22, from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m., to qualify.

We will pick our teams from those who qualify on Jan. 22nd so come and qualify.

We have two divisions this year and can send one entry to each division class.

Downstate Prep Notes

BY JOHN CAMPBELL

Dave Downey and his team mates at Canton really hustled Tuesday night in beating Limestone of Bartonville 72-49 with Downey scoring 21 points, Jim Standard and John Nelson both scored 14 points for Coach Chuck Crosby's Little Giants. The big game of the year for the Fulton five will be played at Canton's gym January 23 with Coach John Thiel's talented Galesburg Silver Streaks, undefeated and rated one in the polls. Jacksonville showed Canton a hustling ball club and Coach John Chapman has his club ready to roll for the tournaments, they could be plenty tough in the Regional and Sectional meets.

The Carlville Lions club, Rotary club, anonymous donor, Carlville National bank and the Merchants National bank combined to donate $900 to the fund for a modern addition to the high school score board. The drive was sponsored by the Lions club and present plans call for a player panel addition on either side of the present board in the new gymnasium. A listing of the players on both teams with numbers along with accumulated fouls for each player by red dots. The names of the officials will be in the lower section and the unit should be ready by late January.

Pairings have been announced for the annual Macoupin County basketball tourney to be held at Carlville's gym Jan. 27-31. Ten schools will compete with two games each night with starting times at 7 and 8:30 p.m. Beul meets Southwest in the meet opener on Tuesday, January 27 with Girard and Mt. Olive meeting in the second game. Varden meets Northwestern and Staunton plays Bunker Hill in Wednesday games. Carlville and Gillespie drew boys and will meet winners of Tuesday games on Thursday with semifinals Friday and finals being slated for Saturday night.

Tommy Cole and George Mathis continue to lead Coach Ray Page's potent Springfield Soldiers and they are leading the Big 12 loop. Gillespie is leading the South Central race with three teams, Litchfield, Greenville and Shelbyville tied for first place in the tough Mid State loop. Macomb high is the top team in the Mid West conference while Winchester and Carrollton are tied for the loop lead in the Illinois Valley race. V. I. T. (Table Grove) is the leader in the Olympic conference race while Canton and Galesburg are unbeaten in the Illinois conference.

The officials of the 37th Annual Winchester invitational tourney are Tuesday—John West and Spike Wilson; Wednesday—Bill Murgatroyd and Herb Scheffler; Thursday—Patton Brothers; Friday—Bob Hanauer and Bob Scheffler. The referees in the meet last year were Francis Strauch, John West, Bill Caldwell, Patton Bros., Spike Wilson and Bill Murgatroyd. Bill Volles of Carrollton is the holder of the individual scoring mark in the Winchester meet with his 36 points scored against Hardin in 1947. Bill Jackson, his high school mentor, is a teacher now at the Williamsville high school.

Round Robin Invitational Tourney At Brown County

MT. STERLING — The Brown County Invitational Tourney Round Robin will get underway Wednesday, Jan. 21, and run through Friday as six teams square-off during the three day event for trophies.

First, second and third places will receive a trophy and the tournament game ball scheduled for fourth place winner.

Tournament winners will be determined by the won and lost record of each team. In case of ties, provisions have been made to award duplicate trophies.

The six teams on the card will be: Pittsfield, Saukage, Brown County Hornets, Notre Dame (Quincy) Raiders; and Beardstown Tigers.

Two games will be played each of the three evenings. First games are scheduled to start at 7 o'clock and second games at 8:30. Officials for the tournament are J. A. Strauch of Hardin and L. N. Caldwell of Waverly. Tickets will be sold at the door.

BARRY MACKAY WINS 'MUST' MATCH SAT.

ADELAIDE (AP)—Barry McKay won a "must" match Saturday and with his U.S. Davis Cup teammates, Alex Olmedo and Chris Crawford, marched into the third round of the Australian Tennis Championships.

Down two sets to one, McKay of Dayton, Ohio, fought back for a 4-6, 6-3, 1-6, 6-2, 6-4 triumph over Australian Ken Fletcher.

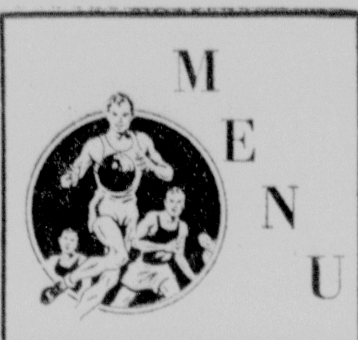

Olmedo, the Peruvian hero of the U.S. Davis Cup victory, beat Wayne Reid of Australia 6-3, 6-3, 6-1. Crawford, from Piedmont, Calif., defeated 5-7, 6-3, 6-1, 6-3. Aussie Barry Phillips Moore.

The matches were played in steady heat which reached 119 degrees in the shade and 129 on the center court.

Cliff Wells, 62, is in his 14th season as Tulane basketball coach.

ADDED INCENTIVE—Henry Cooper punched the big bag and his opponent's scowling countenance preparing for his British heavyweight championship bout with Brian London.

Player Draft To Highlight League Football Meet

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The player draft, rules changes, amendments to the constitution, player pensions and an overall look at income vs expenses conducted National Football League owners at their annual winter meeting here next week.

Commissioner Bert Bell said the meeting would take at least three days, starting Wednesday. The first day will be devoted entirely to the player draft.

Business Club Urges 'Action' Against Baylor

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The American Business Club of Charleston Saturday protested to the National Basketball Assn. over the failure of rookie star Elgin Baylor to appear in the Minneapolis-Cincinnati game it sponsored.

ABC promoter H. Thomas Corrie said he telegraphed League President Maurice Podoloff in New York which read:

"Urgent disciplinary action against Elgin Baylor of Minneapolis club, who refused to play against Cincinnati here Friday night in protest of hotel segregation. Records show Minneapolis club was advised on Dec. 29 that segregation enforced at hotels. His absence from line-up most embarrassing to us and damaged our chances of promoting future NBA games here."

Corrie said losses on the game would run to at least $80.

Most of the 2,356 fans who went out in bad weather to attend were unaware of what was going on.

300 CARS READY; MONTE CARLO RALLY STARTS IN EUROPE

PARIS (AP)—The world's biggest auto competition—the Monte Carlo Rally—starts Sunday when more than 300 cars take off through all kinds of weather on the road to sunny Monaco.

The weather, as usual, probably will be the drivers' major opponent.

Starting from Glasgow, Athens, The Hague, Lisbon, Munich, Rome, Stockholm, Warsaw or Paris, the two to four-man driving teams will follow prescribed routes all averaging approximately 2,173 miles (3,500 kilometers).

Glasgow drivers shove off first at 3 p.m. Sunday. The last of the drivers will leave Paris at 1 a.m. Monday. The timetable calls for three days of gruelling day and night driving which will put the teams in Monte Carlo Wednesday if things go as planned.

EARL BLAIK'S SON MOVES TO OKLAHOMA

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Bob Blaik, son of recently resigned Army football Coach Earl Blaik, has been named backfield coach at Oklahoma.

Blak, 29, succeeds Clive Rush who is returning as backfield coach at Ohio State.

Rush coached one season at OU. Blak has been at Miami two years.

Athletic Director Walter T. McLaughlin of St. John's University was a third baseman and a football and basketball referee in his younger days.

Two Stable Fires Claim 21 Horses West Of Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—Twenty-one horses and two ponies perished Saturday in fires that broke out in two widely separated stables. Eight thoroughbreds and the ponies were killed when flames raced through a winter boarding stable for race horses on the Turf Meadow Farm in Tinley Park, a suburb southwest of Chicago.

Thirteen horses died in a blaze in the Flying W Riding Stable in Norwood Park on the city's northwest fringe.

Although numerical losses were lighter in the Tinley Park fire, the financial losses were much higher.

Best known of the horses was First Lap, a 5-year-old now used as a stallion. He was rated a good race horse as a 2-year-old and a 3-year-old but ran only in claiming races last year.

Pat Schiavone, who owned the stable and five of the horses, estimated the value of the horses at a minimum of $75,000. Tinley Park's fire chief, James English, figured the loss of the stable at $25,000.

Schiavone said workmen started the motor of a tractor, it caught fire and an explosion spread flames to hay. The structure, approximately 100 feet long and 60 feet wide, was virtually destroyed.

The blaze spread so quickly that firemen from Tinley Park and nearby suburbs of Markham, Mokena, Orland Park and Oak Forest were unable to control it.

Twenty-eight horses were in the stable when the fire broke out but all were led to safety except the horses which died in the flames.

A stable workman, Bernard Dales, was burned on his right hand. The fire in the Flying W Stable was blamed on an explosion in an oil stove in an adjoining clubroom. The flames ruined one end of the one-story wooden building.

Forty-seven horses were led to safety from that stable.

The loss of horses was estimated at $6,500 and damage to the structure at $3,000.

Not Best Fielder But Need Bigger Check: Mantle

DALLAS, Texas (AP)—Mickey Mantle, the home run slugger of the New York Yankees, says he may not be the best fielder in the world but thinks he deserves a bigger pay check.

Mantle's appraisal of his field work came in a good natured comment on a remark attributed to Hank Bauer, Mantle's plain-talking teammate.

Bauer was quoted as having said in a talk to 600 baseball fans at the annual St. Paul Oldtimers Hot Stove League Thursday night that Mickey Mantle is a great ball player but "if you had 25 Mantles on a team you wouldn't be sure to win the pennant."

"He may not be too far wrong about that part," Mantle said with a chuckle at his home here when told of the remark. "I'm not exactly the best fielder in the world."

The Minneapolis Star Friday quoted Bauer as saying in his St. Paul speech:

"Mantle is inclined to sulk when he's not whole hog. And, when he's in a slump, he tends to let down on himself and the club."

"If you had 25 Mantles on a team you wouldn't be sure to win the pennant. I found that the only way to win is for everybody to give 100 per cent for the team."

"I wish I had Mickey Mantle's ability," Bauer said.

But at his home in Overland Park, Kan., Friday, Bauer denied he had said Mantle sulked.

"That's hogwash," Bauer said. "I did say Mickey should be the greatest ballplayer that ever lived."

Earlier Mantle hinted to reporters he has laid plans for a long battle to get the 1959 contract he thinks he deserves.

He is reported to have received $75,000 last season and to be asking for $85,000 this year.

Sid Cohen Sparks Kentucky Victory 79-58 Over Tenn.

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Sid Cohen, who has been riding the bench in a slump, came in on a relief role and sparked Kentucky's 79-58 runaway basketball victory over Tennessee Saturday.

Cohen hit 8 of his 14 shots in one stretch during the second half and clinched the 14th victory for Kentucky, the nation's No. 2 college team.

Kentucky was struggling with a 44-38 lead when Cohen unleashed his attack. In a stretch of about five minutes the Wildcats had raced to a 58-42 advantage and coasted in.

The junior college transfer, who had been Kentucky's early-season sparkplug, wound up second in points to center Don Mills, who had 19.

For Tennessee, 6-8 Gene Tormohlen, with 17 and sophomore Bobby Carter, with 16, carried the offensive burden.

A jammed house of 11,600 saw the nationally televised college game of the week. The Wildcats piled up their fourth win against one loss in the Southeastern Conference.

For Tennessee, the setback meant a 2-2 league record.

The scrappy Vols kept the pressure on Kentucky all through the first half and led as late as the last four minutes before intermission.

Kentucky led at halftime 33-28. Shortly after the middle of the second half Kentucky was on top by 20 points.

Notre Dame Tops Loyola 88-61 As Hawkins Returns

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—With star scorer Tom Hawkins back in the lineup after missing three games with an injured ankle, Notre Dame's basketball team defeated Loyola of Chicago Saturday afternoon 88-61. Hawkins was high scorer with 26 points.

Notre Dame's score was its highest this season, in which it has suffered nine defeats and five victories. Two of the losses came while Hawkins was on the bench.

The 6-7 Irish star hit seven of nine shots from the field in the first half and Notre Dame finished the period with a 44-28 lead.

The entire Notre Dame team was zeroed in on the hoop, hitting an aggregate of 37 field shots in 76 attempts for 489. Loyola, suffering its sixth defeat in 12 starts, connected with 24 of 71 field shots for 63.

Clarence Red, 6-6 Loyola sophomore, topped the losers' scoring with eight fielders and five free throws for 21 points.

The game was televised locally.

KONRADS BETTERS OWN SWIMMING RECORD BY 1 SEC.

SYDNEY, AP—John Konrads, Australia's amazing 16-year-old swimmer, bettered his 1:18.4 world record for the 220-yard freestyle by a full second Saturday night. His time was 2 minutes, 2.2 seconds. Konrads moved here from Latvia with his family eight years ago.

RUSH RETURNS TO OSU

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Clive Rush will leave the University of Oklahoma as backfield coach Feb. 1 to return to Ohio State University's football coaching staff, OSU spokesmen said Saturday. Rush will replace Frank Ellwood as backfield coach for the Buckeyes. Ellwood is leaving for Air Force duty.

Review Yankee Rookie Prospects For '59 Season

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Cleis Boyer, the youngest of the ball playing Boyer clan, and Johnny Blanchard, a long-ball hitting catcher, appear to be the best bets to make the grade with the Yankees this year.

Boyer is a shortstop but he probably will be given field berth. Blanchard is a former outfielder who headed Hall of Famer Bill Dickey's advice and switched to catching. The qualification of both is the ability to hit the long ball.

Boyer played at Richmond last year. Blanchard at Denver. The 22-year-old Boyer batted .284 but slammed 22 home runs and drove in 71 runs. The 26-year old Blanchard batted .291 but walloped 19 home runs and drove in 96 runs.

Boyer, whose assets are strong, quick wrists, was acquired by the Yankees in a trade with Kansas City several years ago. The Athletics had paid him a reported $50,000 bonus but gave up on him after his two year apprenticeship had expired.

Routt Claims Fourth Conference Victory; Curtis High Scorer

Bob Winstead's Routt Rockets claimed their fourth conference win Saturday evening as they downed the Arenzville Raiders 58 to 44. The record for Routt conference wins stands at 4 and 0 and the Arenzville team, who gave up their first PMSC game, claim a 3 and 1 record.

Fred Curtis and Charles Musch led the scoring for the slow moving game which saw Don Kemp's Raiders claim only one point during the third quarter. The Arenzville boys were headed by Musch who dropped in 15 points and by Charles Roeger who trapped 13. For Routt Curtis racked up 16 points followed by Jerry Bonjean who scored 15.

Action in the opening quarter was fairly even with the score winding up at the 13-11 line in favor of Routt. Arenzville managed to hold its own in the second period keeping the score even with a 24-23 total at halftime.

Something seemed to stop clicking in the third period, however, and the Raiders were held scoreless for nearly ten minutes. They scored no field goals but did manage to salvage one free throw in the third canto. The Rockets capitalized on the listless playing and managed to roll up 12 points for a third quarter score of 36 and 24. Arenzville rallied in the final quarter, but the damage had already been done.

Routt claimed its eleventh season victory as opposed to five losses and Arenzville boasts 11 wins and six losses.

Highlanders Win 86-72; McCarty High Point Man

MacMurray's Don McCarty and Ron Price, two sophomore forwards, combined to score 45 points last night as the Highlanders defeated Harris Teachers College of St. Louis by a score of 86-72. McCarty dropped in 25 points and teammate Price accounted for 20 markers.

Although the Hornets could not match the Highlanders in total figures, they did hit for higher percentages from both the line and the floor. Harris connected on 24 of 30 attempts from the free-throw line and on 24 of 55 floor shots, good for a 44% total. MacMurray hit on 28 of 38 charity tosses and compiled a field goal percentage of 41%, making 29 baskets in 60 attempts.

The triumph was the ninth of the season for the Clan, who have been defeated five times. Harris Teachers now has a 12-4 ledger.

MacMurray had lost an overtime contest to the Hornets in St. Louis earlier in the season, 79-78. High scoring freshman forward Art Cline of the Hornets, suffering from injuries to both knees, was held to nine points. He had been averaging close to 15 per game.

Neither team could establish a commanding lead in an exciting and well-played first half. Had the Highlanders contained the Hornets' Bert Barth in crucial situations, they might have been able to pull away from the slick Teachers. Barth's jump shot with 4:40 to play pulled his team to within three points of the Highlanders, 30-27, and with one minute remaining, he connected on a jump shot from the corner to cut the Clan lead to one point, 33-32. That was the last time in the contest that Harris was to make a threatening gesture at the local quarter.

With both clubs continuing to make use of the single post offense, in the second half, Barth again connected on a long jump to decrease the Red Shirts' margin to two, 40-38 at the 17-minute mark. Immediately after Barth's effort, the Highlanders began to pull away from the visitors.

Don McCarty's lay up, after he took a splendid pass from Jerry Price, increased the MacMurray lead to seven points, 56-49, at the halfway mark of the second session.

Chuck Osborne then put in two quick buckets and the Clan held a 60-49 edge, an, after an interruption by a Harris free-throw, Price and Osborne connected for two more to give MacMurray a 64-50 bulge.

Abandoning their give-and-go style of play, the Hornets tried vainly to catch the racing Clan, as Bob Leonard made a jump shot and a three-point play all within a minute to slice the Highlander margin to ten, 74-64, with five to play.

Osborne then dealt Harris the final blow, in making another pair of field goals with a minute remaining to give MacMurray a 16 point, 84-68 lead.

After a road game at Lincoln Bible Institute last Tuesday night, the Highlanders will be inactive until Feb. 4, when they will entertain Washington University's Junior Varsity at the Hardin avenue fieldhouse. The contest will be the first of a four game home-stand for the Clan.

Wall Holds Lead In Crosby Tournament

By JACK STEVENSON Associated Press Sports Writer PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Long points continued to drop Saturday for Art Wall Jr. as he fired his third straight 18-hole round and held his lead in the $50,000 Bing Crosby Golf Tournament with a 204 total.

The Pocono Manor, Pa., veteran turned the picturesque and tricky Pebble Beach course for a two-under-par 70 and a four-stroke lead going into Sunday's 18-hole final.

Jimmy Demaret hung onto second place by matching Wall's score over Pebble Beach for a 208 total.

Gene Littler of San Diego moved into the No. 3 spot with a 70 at Cypress Point and a 219. Alone at 211 was Bob Rosburg, Palo Alto, Calif. Three tied at 212—Don January of Eastland, Tex., with a 70 and Walter Ellis of San Antonio and John McMullin of Alameda, Calif., with 71s.

The group at 213 included the first-round co-leader Billy Maxwell; Jay Hebert who won here in 1957, and Masters champion Arnold Palmer. Maxwell shot 72, Hebert a 73 and Palmer a 67.

A crowd of about 25,000 in a ballroom watched the three courses. Those in the right places saw George Fazio of Germantown, N.J., score a hole-in-one on the 158-yard seventh at Monterey Peninsula Country Club and Hans Merrell of Mogadore, Ohio, take a horrendous 19 on the over-the-ocean 15th hole at Cypress Point.

Crosby's tournament rewards pros for individual efforts and for their pro-amateur performances with amateur partners.

Wall and his partner, U.S. Amateur champion Charlie Cox, held the team lead with a best ball 62 Saturday and 187 total.

Tied for second were the teams of Demaret and California football Coach Pete Elliott, and Ellis and San Francisco amateur Frank Tatum Jr. Each had 191 with 65 Saturday.

Wall dropped birdie putts of 12 feet at the fourth, 40 at the fifth, 35 at the ninth and 15 at the fourteenth, putting himself in a solid position for the $4,000 top prize and $2,000 more as the pro on the winning team.

Wall opened with a 69 over the Crosby Point course. Friday he followed with a 65 at Monterey Peninsula.

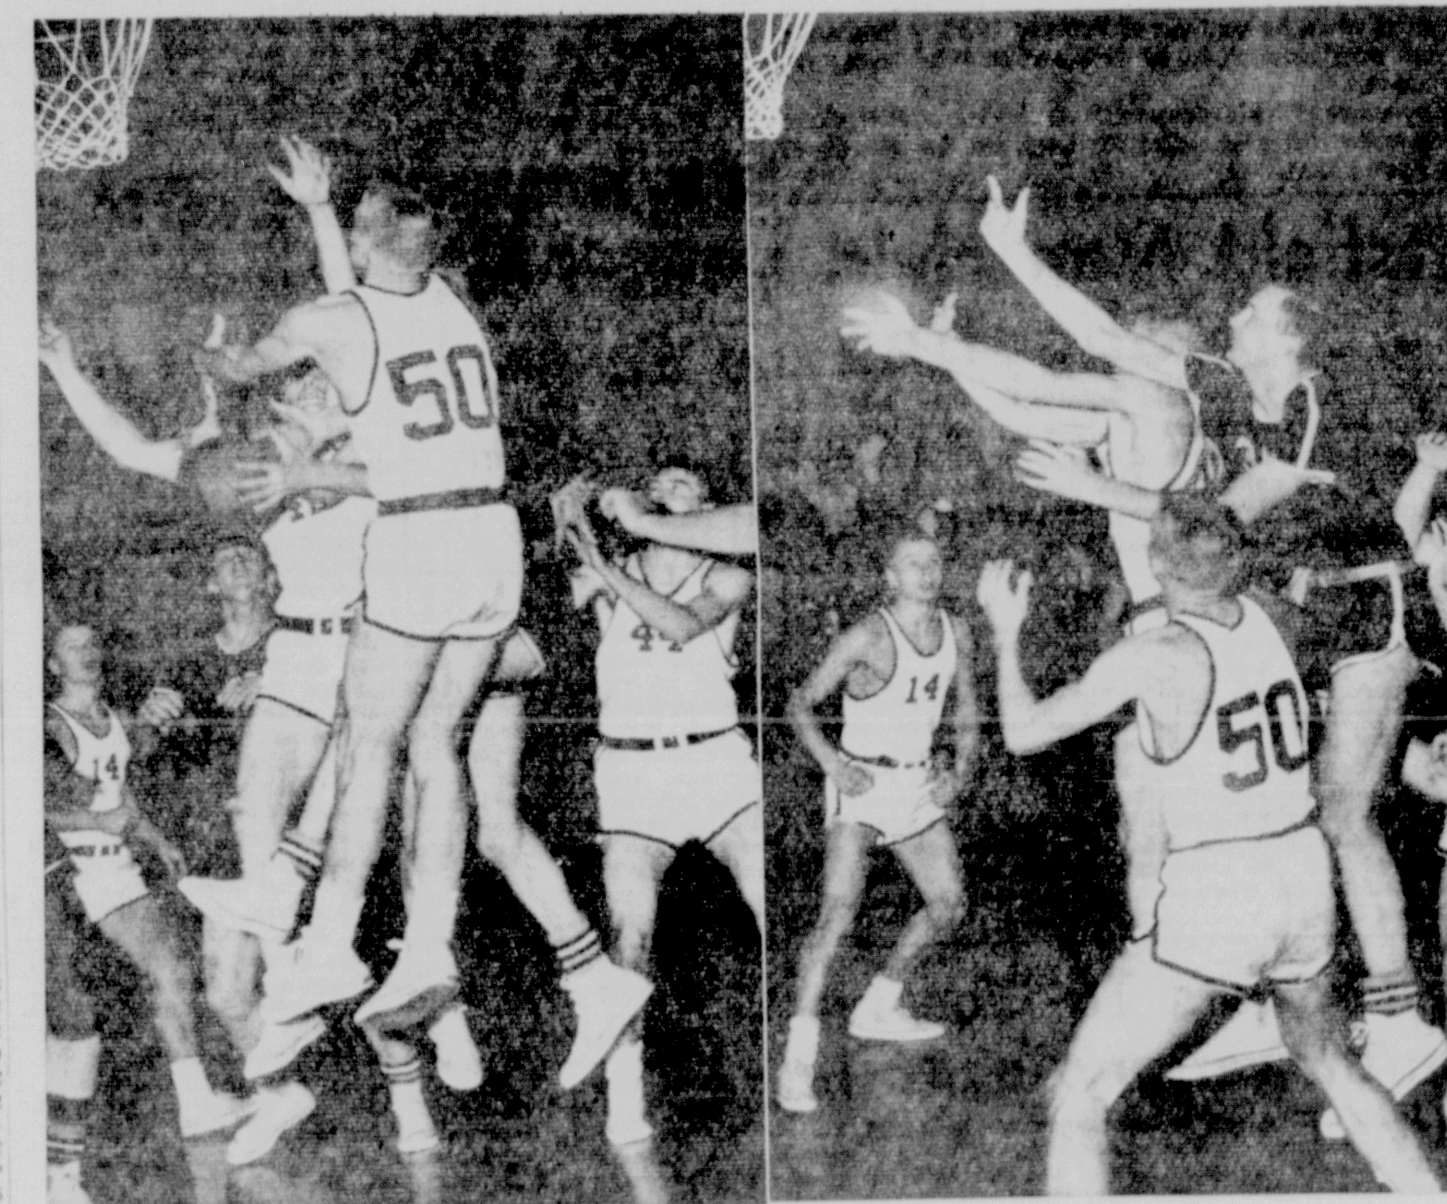

Sunday the low 60 pros and 40 pro-amateur teams wind up the play over Pebble Beach with a national television (ABC) audience watching the finals.

Siegfried, Hoyt Spark Ohio's Win Over Northwestern

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—Sophomores Larry Siegfried and Richie Hoyt poured in 27 and 22 points, respectively, to lead Ohio State to an 88-77 Big Ten basketball victory over Northwestern Saturday night. It was the Buckeyes' first conference victory in three tries.

A collapsing 1-2-2 zone defense by the Buckeyes stifled the favorite hook shot of Northwestern's high scoring center Joe Ruklick. But he led his squad with 17 points.

The defeat evened the Wildcats' Big Ten record at 2-2.

The Wildcats jumped to a 22-12 lead and stayed on top through most of the first half.

But as the Buckeyes' shooting improved, they caught up and passed Northwestern 34-33. At intermission they led 42-41 after trading the lead three times.

Ohio State began pulling away in the final six minutes and showed an 84-74 lead with 1:20 remaining.

For the season, the Buckeyes now hold a 5-6 record. The Wildcats are 9-3.

Crimsons Lose In Overtime 74-68 To St. Teresa Aggregation

Coach John Chapman's Crimsons lost a hard fought overtime battle to visiting St. Teresa of Decatur Saturday night in the local arena. The contest was a bitterly contested affair from start to finish. Pools were abundant in the tilt with the Crimsons hitting 22 free tosses and the visitors clubbing on 28 charity tosses.

Red headed Pat Cooley was the sparkplug for the winning team pumping in 24 points. Nine of these came in the overtime period and wrecked the local clubs' chances for the win. Cooley stepped to the charity line four times in the overtime and calmly tossed in seven free throws.

Jim Keller and Merrit Norvell kept the Jacks in the ball game in the initial frame, teaming up for 10 of the teams 16 points. The score at the end of the first frame was knotted up 16-16. Copeland and Lents handled most of the scoring for the visiting team.

In the second frame Keller and Norvell again carried the scoring punch for the Chapman coached five. Cooley started his scoring spree in this frame but the Jacks pulled out to a 34 to 31 half time lead. The action picked up a little in the third frame, if possible, and St. Teresa lost two starters via the foul route. Allison provided the scoring punch in this stanza aided by Norvell. St. Teresa Coach Joe Venturi found a boy by the name of Arthur on the bench and he promptly started to pump in 25 footers from the side to keep the Orange and Blue in the contest. The score at the end of the third period saw the Jacks on top 50 to 48.

The fourth period saw the lead change hands 8 or 9 times before Arthur stepped to the free throw line with 14 seconds remaining in the 3rd period.

Needless to say, Coach Bill Merris was very pleased with the Blueboys' performance. Two players were out of the lineup due to injuries.

I. C. plays host to Harris Teachers of St. Louis in Memorial Gymnasium Jan. 24.

Blueboys Outpoint Principia 61-52, Brown Dumps In 18

Illinois College downed Principia College of Elmhurst, Ill., last night at Memorial Gym by a score of 61-52. Except for one brief instance early in the first half, the Hilltoppers led throughout the entire game.

Coach Bill Merris' Blueboys held a 32-26 edge at half-time and developed that into a nine point margin by the time the final gun sounded.

Larry Brown sparked the I.C. offense with 18 points. At one time in the second half, Brown dumped in four baskets within two minutes.

Mike Scott was second in scoring for I.C. with 15 points. Scott went into the second half with four personal fouls but was able to complete the game without being sidelined.

Due to Scott's ball handling in the last few minutes of the game, the Principia cagers found it necessary to foul him in order to gain possession of the ball.

In the rebounding department, Carl Moore was high man for both teams with 26 grabs.

Hawkeyes Spoil Indiana Chance For First Place

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (P)—Iowa's Hawkeyes, fighting ferociously for rebounds and hitting the basket constantly, upset Indiana University's basketball team Saturday night, 88-78. Iowa's Dave Gunther pumped in 31 points as the Hawks spoiled an Indiana chance to take over undisputed first place in the Big Ten.

The Hawkeyes had a 41-33 edge at halftime.

The 6-foot-5 Gunther dropped in 12 fielders and seven of nine free throws. Clarence Wordlaw added 18 points.

Walt Bellamy, a 6-foot-109 sophomore, was high man for the Hoosiers with 18 points.

Iowa pulled even in the conference campaign at 2-2. Indiana now is 3-2.

But Minnesota hung on and won the game on free throws by Tommy Benson and Marlow Miller in the final 20 seconds.

The defeat, Purdue's third in four Big Ten games, virtually knocked the Boilermakers out of title contention. They were one of the pre-season favorites. It was Minnesota's second conference victory against one defeat.

Purdue, with its zone defense punctured by Benson, Ron Johnson and Jerry Butler early in the game, looked disorganized and futile until Elson started hitting in the second half.

Elson, 6-5 senior from Gary, Ind., bagged six of his first seven field shots after intermission and had 14 points before the second half was eight minutes old. The game was viewed by a Williams Arena crowd of 5,000 and a regional television audience.

American League pitchers feel good about pitching in Baltimore because outfielders have plenty of room to roam under long fly balls.

Couple Injured As Car Overturns Near New Berlin

Mrs. Bernadette Murphy of Portland, Maine, sustained a fracture of the right shoulder and her husband, Michael, was shaken up as their small foreign car crashed through a fence and overturned, coming to a halt on a culvert two miles west of New Berlin on State Routes 36-34 late Friday night.

Murphy, 27, said the accident happened when he was blinded for an instant by the lights from an oncoming car.

State trooper Thomas Moody attended at the scene of the accident. The auto was towed from the scene by a wrecker.

Both occupants were taken to a hospital in Springfield for treatment by the McCullough ambulance.

Says 4,000 Nurses Eligible For INA Membership

The membership committee of the Ninth District Illinois Nurses' Association met at the home of Miss Lucretia Rentschler Thursday evening, Jan. 15.

The chairman, Miss Rentschler, informed the committee members that there are approximately 4,000 professional nurses in the Ninth District and eligible for membership in the I.N.A.

The committee outlined long range goals for stimulating interest in the organization and discussed immediate measures to increase membership. Names of members were suggested to be appointed as membership captains in each of the larger cities and towns in Ninth District.

It was decided that a potluck supper would be held as a "kick-off" dinner for the membership drive. Each member will be requested to bring a potential member as her guest at the dinner which will be held on February 10, at Springfield Memorial Hospital.

Those present included Ninth District president, Miss Thies of Springfield, Mrs. Ruth Mullen of Havana, Miss Ruth Vanderhorst, Miss Maxine Hoots, Miss Lucretia Rentschler and Miss Gerrie Taylor, all of Jacksonville.

RECEIVES SERVICE AWARD

Dr. Joseph Panella of Meredosia, shown seated in his wheel chair in his office was presented with a certificate of appreciation for voluntary service by the March of Dimes Foundation and a second certificate of appreciation by the Jacksonville Jaycees last week by members of both organizations. Schell Young presented the award on behalf of the March of Dimes and Bill Carl the Jaycees.

Dr. Panella takes care of the needs of his practice from his wheel chair both day and night. He makes house calls and delivers babies just as any other general practitioner would do anywhere in the U. S. despite his handicap.

He had been practicing medicine in Meredosia about three years when he contracted Polio in 1950. After treatment and additional study, he returned in 1952 to resume his practice.

He resides with his wife and three children in Meredosia and has been active in volunteer work for the March of Dimes Foundation.

Pittsfield Man Held In Scott Shooting

Virgil Lipper, 24-year-old Quincy, Ill., man, was hospitalized in serious condition Saturday evening after being wounded in the chest with a 22 caliber pistol. Lipper was one of five people calling on Mrs. Lena Giovanna at the home of her father, James Evans, in Winchester, when the shooting took place about 8 p.m.

Lipper was allegedly the victim of a shot intended for Jerome Giovanna, estranged husband of Mrs. Giovanna, and a member of the visiting group. According to police reports Giovanna, Lipper, John Webber and Earl H. lead drove over from Quincy to visit at the Evans home. A friend of Mrs. Giovanna, James Ervin of Pittsfield, was already a guest at the home, and after a verbal exchange fired into the group presumably aiming for Giovanna, but hitting Lipper.

Scott County Sheriff Lloyd Martin said Saturday that Ervin is being held on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon pending the outcome of Lipper's injuries. Giovanna was charged with disorderly conduct.

Passavant hospital reports showed that Lipper was suffering from a chest injury which they determined serious but not critical. He was taken to the hospital by the Cunningham ambulance, but hitting Lipper.

Nut Growers To Observe 50th Anniversary Aug. 16-19

Illinois College will be host to the 50th Anniversary of the Northern Nut Growers Association at their national convention August 16-19, it was announced today.

Mr. Royal Oakes of Bluffs, chairman of the Committee on Local Arrangements, says that he expects between 150 and 200 Association members to attend the four-day meeting.

The national president, Dr. H. L. Crane of Beltsville, Md., will preside at the meeting. Jacksonville Men Attend Telecast Sales Meeting

Several men from this area associated with the Phillips Petroleum Company attended a closed circuit telecast sales meeting at the Leland hotel in Springfield on Wednesday. It was the largest such meeting ever held in the petroleum industry.

Those attending from Jacksonville were distributors, D. R. Low and Lloyd Black and company representative Bill English. Station operators from this city included B. A. King, Bob Lewis and "Shorty" Ballard. Area station operators in attendance were Clyde Crayne, Waverly; Ray McMillan, New Berlin; Ben Placks and Clyde Hullinger of Bluffs.

Approximately 20,000 Phillips sales people watched their company's sales meeting on TV screens and auditoriums, theaters, and hotels located throughout Phillips 35-state marketing area. Shown simultaneously in 37 major cities extending from Spokane, Wash., to Miami, Fla., the meeting was the biggest in Phillips 66 history.

The business session was under the leadership of Mrs. Ronald Gilman, president, who called for the reports of the officers and committee chairmen. At this time Mrs. Charles Marshall, general chairman of the Twentieth District Junior Spring Banquet which is to be at the Winchester Methodist church April 2, made a report on the progress of the plans made by the large committee in charge. Though the program was not disclosed Mrs. Marshall assured the group of an entertaining evening.

Mrs. Eddy Tells CWF Of Women Of Middle East

The Women's Fellowship of Central Christian church had its monthly meeting on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. J. D. Bunting presided for Mrs. Donald L. Litter, president, absent because of illness.

Mrs. Frank Moxon used as the theme of her devotion, "Women of the Bible." She named women in the Old and New Testament and then elaborated on some and spoke of their most outstanding quality as either mother or wife.

During the next months the study program will be on the Middle East and Women of the Middle East was a very appropriate title for the guest speaker to use.

Mrs. Sherwood Eddy gave every one first hand information and from other sources many interesting facts and stories. She stressed the change in women from clothing to voting powers and other rights and privileges. Turkey, the first country to emerge, made drastic clothing changes, discarding the veil and fez; 91% of the Middle East women are illiterate, seven countries do not grant women the right to vote and two countries do not allow men or women a vote.

Marriage partners are still being chosen but the young people are given the opportunity to speak their dislikes. Divorce and alimony are also allowed in some countries. Aristocrats are dressed in black from head to toe. Mrs. Eddy displayed a burkha and had it modeled. This is a heavy white robe-like dress that covers completely, with small lace patches for seeing.

Mrs. Eddy feels that when necessity comes the women will all discard their veils. The emerging women will help to put a stability in the Middle East.

The service chairman, Miss Opal Kehl, asked all group leaders to start making the hospital gowns and some diapers for the hospital in Haiti. They are needed by May. She also announced the collection of 50 pounds of nylons for overseas.

The day groups are reminded that they will all be meeting at 2 p.m. on the third Wednesday, Jan. 21. Mrs. Claude Jewsbury will be giving the study lesson, assisted by study chairmen. The evening groups will be meeting on this same third Wednesday but at 6:30 and will have a potluck supper.

Scott Cancer Society Shows Films To Winchester Club

By Nancy Hainsfurther
(Winchester Correspondent)
(Telephone Pioneer 2-5320)

WINCHESTER — Members of the Winchester Junior Women's Club were shown two movies on cancer Thursday evening at their monthly dinner meeting held at Fletcher's Cafe. The films dealing with ways to detect symptoms early so that a cure can be attained were shown by Dr. Luise Kuehn of Bluffs who was introduced by the program chairman and vice president of the group, Mrs. William Jefferson.

Accompanying Dr. Kuehn to Winchester were Mrs. Paul Vanderburgh of Bluffs who serves as education chairman of the Scott County Chapter of the American Cancer Society and Mrs. A. Crowell of Springfield who added to the discussion following the showing of the films.

The 6:30 meeting was opened by Mrs. Gerald Wisdom who led the devotions.

The business session was under the leadership of Mrs. Ronald Gilman, president, who called for the reports of the officers and committee chairmen. At this time Mrs. Charles Marshall, general chairman of the Twentieth District Junior Spring Banquet which is to be at the Winchester Methodist church April 2, made a report on the progress of the plans made by the large committee in charge. Though the program was not disclosed Mrs. Marshall assured the group of an entertaining evening.

A variety show which had been tentatively planned by the organization has been cancelled and a spring style show announced with Mrs. Frank Thomas in charge of arrangements. Serving with Mrs. Thomas will be Mrs. Gary Leib and Betty Campbell.

Two guests for the evening were Mrs. Jack Lashmett and Miss Ramona Lawson. The member receiving the free dinner for the evening was Mrs. Harold Crawford.

Kinney Home On S. Prairie Sold For $13,000

The eight room residence of the late Edward L. Kinney, 197 South Prairie street, was sold at public auction Saturday morning to Keith C. Herring, $13,000. There were several bidders.

The property has a gas fired hot water heating system, double sleeping porch, finished attic, full basement, and garage.

A. W. Applebee and William T. Wilson are attorneys for the executor, the Farmers State Bank. Three pieces of property belonging to the estate of the late Henry Toensmann were sold at public auction preceding the Kinney sale.

A nine room modern house at 328 Hardin avenue, located on a lot 80 by 384 feet, was purchased by Claude L. Curry on his bid of $5,600.

A five room house at 534 Hardin avenue, also on a lot 80 by 384, went to Chester Blakeman on his bid of $2,400. Mr. Blakeman also was purchaser of a five room modern house at 1218 South Main street, on a bid of $5,000. The house is heated by a hot air furnace and a single garage is located on the property.

Middendorf Brothers were auctioneers of both sales. The Farmers State Bank & Trust Co. is executor of the Toensmann estate, and Robinson, Foreman, Rammelkamp, Bradley & Hall are attorneys for the estate.

Final Rites For Renter Anderson

Funeral services for French Anderson were held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Chapin Christian Church. The Rev. F. V. Wright and Rev. Neva Morris officiated.

Mrs. Wendell Brackett, accompanied by Mrs. Eugene Nienhiser at the organ, sang several selections.

Flowers were cared for by Mrs. Doris Pitch, Mrs. Mildred Frisch, Mrs. Leona Perry, Mrs. Doris Omman and Mrs. Idella Nergen.

Casket bearers were Lloyd Anderson, Fred Tiemann, Earl Smith, John Klester, Wilbur Tappenbeck, Omer Brockhouse, Clarence LaKamp and Otto Staake. Burial was in Winchester City Cemetery.

To Tell Latest On Field Crops At U.I. Jan. 27

URBANA — Latest results of 1958 commercial and experimental hybrid corn tests will be reported at the University of Illinois Crop Performance Day on Jan. 27, according to extension agronomist W. O. Scott.

Other topics on the day's program include discussions of corn diseases, liquid vs. dry fertilizers, soil insecticides, weed control in corn, new oat, soybean and wheat varieties, and barren stalks in corn.

University of Illinois soils, crops and plant disease research workers will make these reports on their most recent research. All farmers and others interested in these topics are cordially invited. The meeting will begin at 9:30 a.m. and adjourn at 3:30 p.m. in Room 112, Gregory Hall. Last year more than 300 farmers and seedsmen attended the Crop Performance Day program.

This Week.. at Dixon Springs

Microbe hunters and wildlife hunters collaborated at Dixon Springs during the two-week period around Christmas and New Year's Day. The purpose was to search for the leptospirosis organism that infects many animals.

Leptospirosis was first diagnosed in Illinois about 10 years ago. The disease may be costly-affecting milk flow and causing abortions and even death in younger animals. It is not a simple disease caused by a single "lepto" organism, but is caused by a whole family in which each "cousin" differs.

"Lepto" organisms of various types have also been found in wild animals. During the deer season, University veterinarians collected many blood samples from deer. One of the objects was to determine the incidence of and the kind of lepto organisms in the deer population.

Trapping Dr. Deam Hunter Ferris from the College of Veterinary Medicine, with help from Whitel Everts and Norris Schuchardt, local trappers, and D. R. Stutz, a University of Illinois zoology student, ran daily trap lines in the fields and barns of the Station. Eighty-five wild animals and birds were caught. Included in the catch were mice, rabbits, possums, raccoons, foxes, mink, muskrats, moles and even an owl.

From each animal a blood sample was taken, and tissue samples of liver, kidney and spleen were prepared for laboratory tests. It is from these samples that Dr. Ferris hopes to learn more about the wildlife reservoir of this relatively new but costly disease to the livestock industry.

One of Dr. Ferris's trade secrets is that you'll catch more mice with peanut butter than with cheese for bait.

Grain Sorghum Silage Sorghums have a reputation for making a crop during years of limited rainfall, and variety trials at the Station show that they have strength under two other conditions. George McKibben, station crops researcher, says that hybrid grain sorghums appear to be good bets to compete with corn for the production of silage in years of late plantings and in wet as well as dry years. In 1957, a year of late planting, and in 1958, a very wet year, hybrid grain sorghums produced not only more silage, but more grain than did corn. A good grain sorghum bet any year is R. S. or Texas 610.

University of Illinois research trials show that feeding silage all year makes more efficient use of roughage than running cattle on pasture during the summer.

Illinois Grain Plans New River Elevator

Eighty-five men from 14 counties met at Farm Bureau hall Thursday night to consider plans for building a high-speed grain-barge loading elevator on the Illinois river.

Fred Watts, Jr., manager of the Illinois Grain company, presided at the meeting. Illinois Grain is a subsidiary of the Illinois Agricultural association.

This photo shows Watts as he showed how a river "house" around Meredosia could benefit this area.

"I have had a hard time to find any objection to building an elevator in the Meredosia area," he declared. He said his company had an option, till Feb. 26, on 140 acres of land owned by Dr. A. G. Schultz of Jacksonville. This land is located south of the National Starch plant and about two miles south of Meredosia. The option price on the land is $14,500.

Watts said a road from the town of Meredosia to the proposed site would cost about $25,000.

Some of the men present at the Thursday meeting said they believed the elevator should be built either at Naples or Florence.

Watts said that the IGA studies on the subject pointed to Meredosia.

"I certainly don't wish to disparage anybody," he said. "But Naples is off of the highway network and Florence is a bit too far south for our operation."

He asserted that within the next decade "we'll have plenty of competitors, right next to us, in Meredosia."

The elevator, as planned now, will have storage capacity of 300,000 bushels. It will be equipped with high speed unloading and loading equipment and will cost in the neighborhood of $600,000. Nothing definite was heard at the meeting, but a check after the meeting of representatives of the 24 cooperatives elevators present indicated the elevator will be built, and probably at Meredosia.

School Presents Olin W. Stead With Scroll

CARROLLTON—Olin W. Stead, superintendent of the Carrollton Community School Unit, who resigned his position to take a position as assistant superintendent in the state office of the Department of Education, was honored by the students of the Carrollton Community Unit high school in an assembly program Wednesday afternoon.

Talks honoring Stead were given by Miss Diane Journey, the president of the Student Council of the school and Lou Evans, the president of the National Honor Society. A musical selection was presented by a mixed chorus of the school with Miss Roth of the school faculty as director and accompanist.

Ronnie Carter, a student council member presented a scroll to Stead which read as follows:

"In recognition of your distinguished service to the Carrollton Community Unit High School, we of the student body wish you happiness in your new undertaking. Long have faithfully rendered your time and efforts as Superintendent of our school. At this time we only partially understand what you have done for us. In the near future we shall be able to comprehend better all that you have done for us. We hope you will put aside our blunders and shortcomings and when you think of Carrollton high school, your overall memory will be one of satisfaction and pride."

The program closed with group singing of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

The program was arranged by Miss Jo Helton and the scroll was lettered by Gary Schroeder.

Soil Association To Hold Annual Meeting Jan. 26

The 15th annual meeting of the Morgan County Soil Conservation district will be held Monday evening, Jan. 26, at the First Baptist church in Jacksonville.

The speaker will be W. H. Brown, Jr., former Greene county farm adviser who now heads the department of natural resources, Illinois Agricultural association. Brown began his work in soil and water conservation at the old C.C.C. camp in Jacksonville.

R. G. Leavell of the Lynnville community, chairman of the board, will preside. Reports will be given by Ted Pierce, SCS farm planner, and Farm Adviser George Trull.

Two directors to serve for two years will be elected. The terms of Leavell and Clarence Duerwerf of Waverly expire.

Holdover board members are Amos Western of Jacksonville, Floyd Goodpasture of Concord and Earl Meyers of Litchfield. Fees are $1.50 and may be had from any director or at the Farm Bureau office.

Morgan Rural Youth To Hold Western Jamboree

The Morgan County Rural Youth Western Jamboree will be held at Franklin High school Saturday evening, Jan. 24, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

"Come dressed in western clothes, if possible," says the program chairman, Miss Jean Powers. "Enjoy a big square dance, besides a fried chicken dinner."

Rev. William E. Skadden of Springfield will be the speaker. His topic for the evening has not been announced, but his latest lecture, "Slow Down and Live" has received acclaim.

It is doubtful that he will use this theme, since he will be followed by the Rocky Hill Boys of Quincy playing a lively program of dance music.

Committee chairmen for the evening are Carolyn Becker, menu; Jean Powers, program; Rita Clayton, decorations, and Eldred Ehler, publicity.

The committees expect an attendance of around 100. Tickets may be had at the Farm Bureau.

What To Study!

Two young men from Morgan county, graduates of Jacksonville High school last June, will enroll Feb. 2 in the University of Illinois College of Agriculture short course. The cost of the six weeks' course is around $250 and the Elliott State bank is providing $100 to each of the two youths.

There are many courses of study in the six weeks' program—ranging from grain production, plant diseases, insect control, soil and water conservation, animal health, cattle and swine feeding, welding, machine maintenance, etc.

The two youths who will go to the winter course under the auspices of the Elliott bank are Darrell Wynn, 18, left, and Wayne Tomhave, 18. Standing are George Trull, farm adviser, and E. H.

Garlich, former Morgan county farm adviser and now farm manager for the Elliott State bank. Wynn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wynn of rural route 3, Winchester. He is a member of the Lynnville Hustlers 4-H club. Tomhave is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Tomhave, rural route 3, Jacksonville. He is a member of the Northside 4-H club.

STABLE HOG MARKET EXPECTED IN 1959

The hog market sagged at the year's end. Hog prices dipped to about $16.50 average at terminal markets, which was down about $2 lower than the year before.

This price difference is not excessive, considering that summer farrowings (June-July-August) were 18 per cent larger than the year before and farmers in nine corn-belt states had 22 per cent more hogs three to six months old on Dec. 1 than they had last year.

Marketings may have been bunched around the year-end. There were widespread reports that market supplies would increase sharply after the first of the year and that prices would drop accordingly. Perhaps some farmers were aiming to "beat the break."

The Christmas-New Year holidays often mix up the market and make it difficult to draw conclusions from market receipts and price trends. These holidays came on Wednesday in 1957 and on Thursday in 1958.

Market receipts in prospect for the first 90 days of this year are larger than last year, but not so large as during the last 90 days of 1958. The following figures will illustrate this point:

On Dec. 1 farmers in nine corn-belt states had on hand 13.8 million hogs between three and six months of age. That was 22 per cent more than a year before but 38 percent less than last September 1.

Hog prices averaged $20.20 at terminal markets during the first three months of 1958 and $18.40 during the last three months. Prices for the next three months seem likely to be around the lower of these figures.

Season-to-season market supplies of hogs in prospect for 1959 are more nearly equal than those of any previous year since World War II. The indicated 1959 spring pig crop is only 39 per cent larger than the preceding fall pig crop. By contrast, the 1958 spring crop was 45 per cent larger than the preceding fall crop, and that memorable 1955 spring crop was 51 per cent larger than the previous fall crop. The better balance between fall and spring pig crops this year will tend to stabilize prices.

Prices will probably not rise so much as usual in the first half of the year and may not decline so much as usual in the last half. The situation seems to call for selling hogs when they reach the most desirable weight rather than attempting to jump, or hold, for a high market.

Price differentials for weight vary from day to day and from market to market. Recently most markets were paying top prices for 200- to 220-pound weights, but Chicago and St. Louis were paying a few cents more for 180- to 200-pound hogs. Price discounts were small up to 240 pounds.

Editorial Comment

Accentuate The Positive

Since President Eisenhower's message to Congress dealt, by design, with the state of the world rather than just the national condition, his comments on defense and foreign policy merit prime consideration.

He seemed to recognize that we could not content ourselves nor satisfy our friends abroad with mere negative responses to Communist proposals.

He wanted it known again that we will stand firm against Red encroachments in trouble spots like Berlin, but that we very much favor finding a basis for lasting settlement of critical world issues.

What he put new stress upon is that any such pacts must be, in effect, "self-enforcing," that is, they must be so put together that Russia cannot add them to its long list of broken international contracts.

What this appears to propose is that we would not, as in the past, insist upon prior proof of Soviet good intentions but would instead be ready to enter into negotiations—provided they lead to ironclad pacts Russia cannot subvert.

As for defense, Mr. Eisenhower laid greatest weight on his conviction that we are in a long continuing struggle, not one that has deadline dates of "maximum peril."

This means we must inevitably maintain a high level of armaments, but must "guard against feverish building" of our defenses to meet "glibly predicted moments" of extreme danger.

Obviously this is an answer to those who contend with every Russian advance in the space-missile field that we must spend vast additional sums to catch up with the Soviet Union. The President would pin our hopes for superiority on better planning, organization, and skillful application of scientific knowledge.

In the domestic as in the foreign field, the President in his 1959 "look ahead" was determined to give his proposals a positive rather than simply a negative cast.

Thus, while he put his expected emphasis on the fight for a balanced budget and against excessive spending and the inflation which follows, he painted the future of a steadily expanding America in broad, bright strokes.

To underscore his concern for that future, Mr. Eisenhower promised to name a committee of leaders in education, business, labor and the professions to help chart long-term national goals for the next five and ten years.

His intimates are suggesting this effort will transcend all others in the final two years of his presidency—except the continuing quest for a durable peace.

Democrats who criticize the President for negativism and lack of leadership are not impressed. They fear his "goals" group will be "just another committee."

And they say his efforts to balance the budget and check inflation could be at the expense of both defense and essential domestic programs.

It should be plain, then, that what Mr. Eisenhower has laid before the American people is not simply his blueprint for them but a battle plan for the tests between his administration and Congress in the next two big years.

Risky Test

A few days before Christmas four armed robbers held up a branch of the Lincoln Savings Bank in Brooklyn and made off with $72,000.

For a time the other day it looked as if it were going to happen again. This time the threat came from an old man with coat collar up, hat pulled down, dark glasses. "Everybody down on the floor," he shouted.

But the bank was ready for the second go. Alarms were touched off, bank guards whipped out pistols, detectives on tap outside rushed in, squad cars sailed up.

Suddenly the branch manager holstered: "It's all right. It's Mr. Froeb, the trustee. He's okay!" It was Frank Froeb, 75, veteran bank trustee, merely testing the security force on alertness. He came within an ace of being shot at.

The next board of trustees meeting should be a honey. Will Froeb be bounced for overzealousness? Or will he be decorated for bravery above and beyond the call of duty? However it goes, they'll have to admit he's a pretty bold 75.

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Funniest political jokes going around town are the cracks Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.) made about 1960 Democratic presidential hopefuls at a recent dinner party.

Here are his descriptions of the top White House prospects:

Lyndon Johnson (D - Tex.) — "The first man to try to turn outer space into a congressional investigation. He figures that the best road to the White House is through the Milky Way."

John Kennedy (D - Mass.) — "Every time he appears on a TV panel show, thousands of viewers write in to ask which college won the debate."

Adlai Stevenson — "His continued leadership of most Democratic polls shows Democrats have no desire to ruin the sport of the thing by any compulsive desire to win."

Gov. Robert Meyer of New Jersey — "The other day he said the only thing he knew about foreign policy was what he read in the New York Times—forgetting the Times has been on strike for two weeks."

Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) — "His talk with Khrushchev is to be made into a movie entitled 'The Lynx and the Larnx'."

Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) — "He's promising the farmers soil bank payments for planting the land with missile launching pads."

Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) — "My prediction is that Estes will win 27 primaries but might even get nosed out for the nomination."

AT A BRIEFING for employees of the new Federal Aviation Agency, hard-hitting always boss E. R. (Pete) Quesada explained that the best feature of his organization is its unlimited opportunities for promotion.

"A job which offers opportunity is much better than one which just provides security," he declared. "After all, you can find plenty of security in jail."

One of the employees sitting in the back of the room then cracked: "The guy is tough all right. Sounds like his first policy is going to be 'Work for FAA or go to jail.'"

BUSIEST WOMAN in town this year is liable to be Coya Knutson, the ex-Democratic congresswoman from Minnesota who hit the headlines last year in the "Coya, come home" controversy. Although she was defeated in the last election, Coya plans to stay in Washington.

Right now she is hunting for a job either in politics or education. In addition to her regular work, Coya says that she intends to keep in touch with her former constituents and return to Minnesota periodically to make speeches.

Asked if this means that she has plans to run for Congress again in 1960, Coya answered, "I'm certainly not ruling them out."

AN EMBASSY official of one of the Communist countries confided to friends that he has already planned how to spend his last day in the U.S. when he gets orders transferring him to another country.

"I'm going to take all my credit cards," he cracked, "go out on the town and really live it up."

PARTY-GOERS in Washington are starting to get a taste of the Middle East's trend toward nationalism at the dinner parties which embassy officials from that part of the world are tossing these days. Instead of serving the usual array of shrimp, ham

Lyndon Johnson (D - Tex.) — "The first man to try to turn outer space into a congressional investigation. He figures that the best road to the White House is through the Milky Way."

John Kennedy (D - Mass.) — "Every time he appears on a TV panel show, thousands of viewers write in to ask which college won the debate."

Adlai Stevenson — "His continued leadership of most Democratic polls shows Democrats have no desire to ruin the sport of the thing by any compulsive desire to win."

Gov. Robert Meyer of New Jersey — "The other day he said the only thing he knew about foreign policy was what he read in the New York Times—forgetting the Times has been on strike for two weeks."

Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) — "His talk with Khrushchev is to be made into a movie entitled 'The Lynx and the Larnx'."

Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) — "He's promising the farmers soil bank payments for planting the land with missile launching pads."

Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) — "My prediction is that Estes will win 27 primaries but might even get nosed out for the nomination."

AT A BRIEFING for employees of the new Federal Aviation Agency, hard-hitting always boss E. R. (Pete) Quesada explained that the best feature of his organization is its unlimited opportunities for promotion.

"A job which offers opportunity is much better than one which just provides security," he declared. "After all, you can find plenty of security in jail."

One of the employees sitting in the back of the room then cracked: "The guy is tough all right. Sounds like his first policy is going to be 'Work for FAA or go to jail.'"

BUSIEST WOMAN in town this year is liable to be Coya Knutson, the ex-Democratic congresswoman from Minnesota who hit the headlines last year in the "Coya, come home" controversy. Although she was defeated in the last election, Coya plans to stay in Washington.

Right now she is hunting for a job either in politics or education. In addition to her regular work, Coya says that she intends to keep in touch with her former constituents and return to Minnesota periodically to make speeches.

Here are his descriptions of the top White House prospects:

The World Today

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fidel Castro, in power in Cuba only 16 days, is already in a shouting match with the United States although his revolutionary government was given speedy diplomatic recognition by this country.

Castro's long fight against the dictatorship of Fulgencio Batista reached its climax Jan. 1 when Batista fled. Castro's announced purpose in overthrowing Batista was to restore democracy to Cuba.

What he has actually imposed—at least temporarily—is another dictatorship. His government has dismissed Congress and announced it will rule by decree for 18 months, after which elections can be held.

No observer in Washington can say whether such delay is justified or not.

But Castro's tactics since his victory—in approving mass execution by firing squads of Batista followers and in his violent attacks on the United States—raise questions.

Was his long fight against Batista simply that of a patriotic but emotional man who lacked the vision to plan long-range for orderly government? Or was he practical enough to do such planning?

His angry outbursts against the United States seemed prompted by American criticism of the mass executions.

Repeated charges — quickly denied by the State Department — that the United States provided arms and aid to Batista's defeated forces.

But Castro went further than merely attacking American policy. He said: "We are more democratic than President Eisenhower. We are more democratic than John Foster Dulles. There is more liberty here than in the United States."

Castro's fatigue, his anger at criticism, or just poor judgment may have been the root of these bitter attacks.

If the State Department seems — in the light of Castro's present performance — to have been hasty in granting him recognition, at least this country had been already made self-conscious about its dealings with Latin American dictators.

One of the reasons given last spring for the stoning and spitting inflicted on Vice President Richard M. Nixon during his Latin American tour was the complaint this country had played much too cozy with Latin American dictators.

In August President Eisenhower sent his brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University, to Latin America to look over the situation and report on how this country could improve its relations.

Dr. Eisenhower took months preparing that report. He sent it to the President, Dec. 27, just a few days before Castro threw out Batista.

Among other things Dr. Eisenhower urged a stiffer policy toward Latin American dictators by suggesting that while the United States should embrace democratic regimes it should give dictators only "a formal handshake."

On Jan. 7, six days after Batista fled, the United States gave Castro's provisional government recognition.

This fast action may come under questioning in Congress—particularly if relations with Castro grow worse—since it was taken before there was full time to see how the Castro wind blew.

Happy Times

Mind Can Be Sharp at 50,
But You Must Exercise It

BY MARIE DAERR

So, like plenty of other people, you think your mind doesn't function as well at age 40 or 50 as it did when you were a youngster?

Then prepare for an argument from an expert on "aging." She is Dr. Wilma Donahue, head of University of Michigan's division of gerontology.

"We are getting more and more evidence that mental powers don't decline after middle age," says Dr. Donahue.

One survey reckoned a group of middle-agers who, 30 years ago, took intelligence tests from University of Iowa researchers. Now, 30 years later, these "youngsters" were checked again.

"Results showed a sizable gain in average intelligence scores," said Dr. Donahue. "In fact, no one who took the tests a second time did poorer than he did 30 years ago."

Further University of Michigan research also handed learning laurels to a group of older people. These older adults and a group of younger people were asked to recall incidents from the same passage in a book.

"The younger people reread the material less often," reported Dr. Donahue. "But the older people recalled it more accurately."

In England, two groups, one younger, one older, were asked to do a semiskilled task. The youngsters made no plans, but plunged in. The older people asked more questions, seemed doubtful about results.

"But the older group did the job just as well," said Dr. Donahue. Dr. Donahue, pointed out that an emotional crisis, such as losing husband or wife, can do things to one's mental functions. But, she added, the person who has many interests will recover better than the person who has let his world shrink.

Mental powers can also decline from purely physical causes.

"But the reverse can happen," Dr. Donahue said. "Tests at Washington University in St. Louis, Mo., showed that, when diet and hormone treatment restored certain physical functions, mental scores improved, too."

In Dr. Donahue's opinion, "plain, lazy thinking habits" can be a real villain.

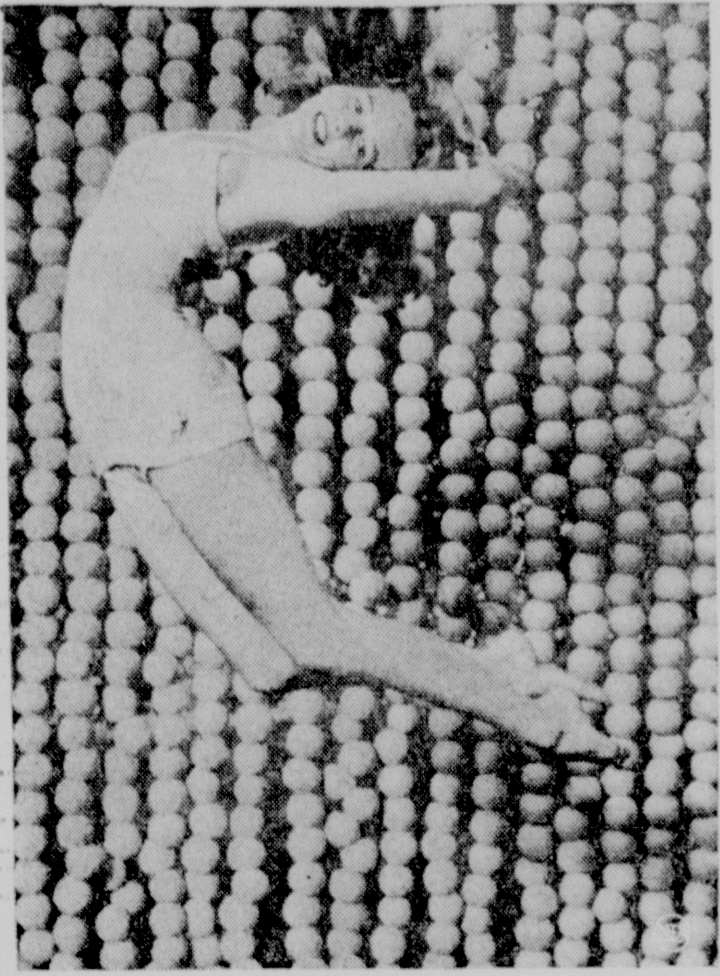

"To keep your mind healthy, continue to use it and enjoy it," she said. "If you think mental decline is inevitable, and shrink from outside contacts and interests, you may realize your fears."

Q—My son, unmarried, has invited me to be his guest on a fine vacation trip, one that I couldn't afford to take. I'm afraid Dad could be a wet blanket and I hesitate to say yes. What do you think?—L. B. W.

A—I'd accept, promptly—and enjoy every minute. I'm wagering your son wouldn't have asked you if he hadn't thought you would be fine "young" company.

Q—How often should I check my Social Security record with the Social Security Administration?—L. F. Y.

A—At least once every three years. You can get your record to date by getting Form OAR-7004 at the nearest Social Security office, filling it out and mailing it to Social Security Administration, Candler Bldg., Baltimore 2, Md. Or just write a letter stating name and address, date of birth and Social Security number.

ORANGES AND A BLOSSOM—Things are jumping down Florida way in the citrus fruit business, judging from this pretty picture. A curtain of oranges makes an appropriate background for Cypress Gardens Aquamaid Diane Van Dusen, who adds plenty of vitamin see to the display.

Four Out Of Five Little Rock Students Continue Education

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — This is high school education in Little Rock today:

Hastily opened private schools. Correspondence courses. Or long bus rides to out-of-town schools. Despite these handicaps to learning, four out of five of Little Rock's 3,300 high school students are continuing their studies.

A few, finding it more profitable to take jobs, have given up their studies completely. Another small number considers the free time a lark.

All attended Little Rock's four public high schools which Gov. Orval E. Faubus closed last September rather than integrate as ordered by federal courts.

A week ago a U. S. district judge in Little Rock laid down a 30-day deadline for the school board to come up with a plan for integrating the closed high schools in the city.

Their closed schools apparently have brought home the importance of education. But have their attitudes changed on integration, in the face of these hardships? Here are some representative comments:

Beverly Burks, a sophomore in private and segregated Raney High School, which was opened by the Little Rock Private School Corp., says:

"I'll never go back to Central as long as Raney is open."

She attended Central High School last year, which then had eight Negro students.

"It (Raney) is smaller, more friendly. You get to know everybody. And most everybody out there is in agreement on integration—we don't want it."

Billy Owen, 16, also attended Central last year. But this year, along with 50 other students, he rides a chartered bus daily to Hazen High School, 50 miles from Little Rock.

He has to leave home at 6:30 a. m. and doesn't return until 5 p. m. "It's worth it, though," he says. "An education is worth anything you have to go through to get it."

Billy says he would not return to Central this year, even if it were reopened. He intends to go to Hazen next year "if they'll let me."

Students who criticize their new schools or the closing of the old ones, refuse to permit use of their names. One of these is a 16-year-old Negro girl, a sophomore, who says:

"I don't think it's fair. I wasn't involved in this controversy. I was very happy at Horace Mann (the Negro high school) and wanted to stay there. I don't think it's right that we should suffer for what other have done."

Another, a 14-year-old white girl who would have been a sophomore at Central this year, says: "The way I see it, I'm being deprived of my constitutional right to attend public school. I wish they'd get this argument settled so kids could plan their futures."

Neither girl is enrolled in any school. Each is studying at home, without any hope of receiving credit for her work.

John Thomas, 18, also would be a senior at Central, but he does not plan to return to school at all. "I'd have gone if the public schools were open," he says. "But I plan to become a carpenter, and I've already begun my apprenticeship, a year earlier than I would have."

I don't think this has hurt me much, and I'll get to be a journeyman just that much sooner."

But all except those who gave up their studies completely have learned "just how valuable education is," says W. C. Brashears, who came out of retirement to head the Little Rock Private School Corp.'s Raney High.

In most cases, he says, interest and application by the teenagers will make up most of the educational deficit they face.

Even before the Faubus-supported Raney High School was established with money raised in public drives, a Baptist high school and several smaller church-supported academies began operating. The University of Arkansas offered correspondence courses and flocks of students moved to other schools.

Now 630 are enrolled at Raney, 350 at Baptist, 150 in other church schools, 1,000 in public education outside of Little Rock and 400 are taking correspondence courses. This means that all but about 600 students have found their way to some type of education.

While most students have found a way to continue studies, they have met only the first phase of their problem. For those who want to go on to college there remains the question of whether their credits will be accepted at most colleges and universities.

Those attending classes have been forced to augment classroom instruction with correspondence courses and tutoring to prepare for rigorous college entrance exams.

"I don't doubt there will be a lot of students who will be unable to qualify for college," says our school official who asks that his name not be used. "By this I mean students with the funds and the inclination to go to college who could get in with an acceptable diploma but who never will be able to pass an entrance exam."

The private schools offer only the basic courses—English, mathematics, science, history—not Latin and other languages which colleges also like on high school transcripts. The Raney school, only one of the private institutions being set up as a permanent facility, plans to offer college preparatory courses, but they are a year away.

Brashears is sure his school will be accredited as soon as it has been operating long enough to make application. Accreditation could be a saving factor for the school, only one of the private institutions which charges no tuition because it would mean eligibility for state funds. So far the school has operated on money raised by donation—about $265,000—but this will not continue indefinitely.

One thing is certain: the massive public resistance to school closing forecast by President Eisenhower has not developed in Arkansas. Only the Women's Emergency Committee to Reopen Our Schools is working openly against Faubus.

On the other hand, officials of segregation groups continue to say they would rather have the schools closed indefinitely than accept integration.

ALL MIXED UP
BRISTOL, Va., AP — The Gordon Hardin family finds life in a new home a complex interstate affair. They had to register their contract for the home astride the state line in both Virginia and Tennessee.

The mail man locates them when addressed in either state—and so does the tax collector. The home is subject to property taxes in both states. They license one car in Virginia and the other in Tennessee. But Tennessee has no dog tax outside incorporated towns. Virginia does, so Fido is a Tennesseean.

MARSHALL STRICKEN — Retired Gen. George Marshall, 78, was rushed to hospital at Fort Bragg, N.C., after suffering what a spokesman called a "brain spasm." The spokesman said he believed the General suffered a "minor stroke."

Judith Ann Schrader

The betrothal of Judith Ann Schrader to William Bruce Barton and their plans for a late summer wedding in Jacksonville are announced by her mother, Mrs. Lucile Schrader, 118 Havendale Drive. The bride-elect is the daughter of the late Commander Frederick R. Schrader. She graduated in 1958 from Jacksonville High School and is a student at MacMurray College.

Bruce is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fay Barton, former local residents, now living at Orange, California. A former student at Illinois College, he has been attending Long Beach State College, Long Beach, California, but will enroll again at Illinois College in February.

Robertine Hoots

WINCHESTER—Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hoots announce the engagement of their daughter, Robertine, and her approaching late spring marriage to Robert Lutzan of Chicago, Illinois.

Miss Hoots graduated from Winchester High School in 1956. She then attended and graduated from Weaver Airline Personnel School, Kansas City, Missouri. She is presently employed in Chicago by United Airlines.

Mr. Lutzan, a graduate of Carl Swartz High School, Chicago, attends Wright College in that city. He is also employed by Aeronautical Radio, Inc., at Chicago's Midway Airport.

The couple plan a wedding in May.

Janet Vedder Engaged To Missouri Man

Announcement has been made by a former Morgan county couple, Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Vedder of Sedalia, Missouri, of the engagement of their daughter, Janet Lee, to James M. Noel, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Noel of Joplin, Mo.

JANET VEDDER

Janet Lee is the granddaughter of Mrs. Sadie Henry, 229 West College avenue. The Vedder family formerly lived in the Murrayville community and before moving to Sedalia three years ago lived in several other towns, one of which was Mattoon, Illinois.

No date has been set by the young couple for the wedding.

Jerseyville Couple To Observe 50th Wedding Date

JERSEYVILLE—Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Yocom, who reside on a farm east of Jerseyville, will observe the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage next Monday, Jan. 19. No formal observation of the occasion has been planned.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Yocom was Miss Lela Dabbs, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Dabbs. The wedding ceremony was performed by the pastor of the First Baptist church at that time, the late Rev. W. W. Hicks. The couple's attendants were the brother of Clyde Yocom, the late Claude Yocom and his wife, Mrs. Grace Wilder Yocom.

To Teach at Dow
Rev. Jerry V. Colsten, minister of the Nazarene Church in Jerseyville has been employed by the Board of Education of Community Unit District No. 100 to teach the fifth grade at Dow. He will begin his duties on Jan. 26 when the second semester starts.

Miss Martha Bentley of Brighton who had been employed for the term has been ill since September. Mrs. Clarence Sunderland has been substituting for her at Dow school but under the certificate held by Mrs. Sunderland she is only privileged to teach 90 days during the school year.

To New Residence
Deputy Sheriff and Mrs. M. E. Leach will move this week from 503 W. West Arch St. to the residence at the county jail, which has been renovated.

The Leach residence has been rented by Mr. and Mrs. John Wendorff of Jerseyville, who will move there the first of February. Mr. Wendorff is with the sales tax division of the Illinois Department of Revenue and the family has been residing in Jerseyville, since August.

Proxy Guests At Shower-By-Mail For Miss Strubbe

ALEXANDER—While Miss DeLores Strubbe spent the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Strubbe and other relatives she had as her guest, Miss Regina Handsche of Suring Wis., former classmate with Miss Strubbe at Concordia College, River Forest, Ill.

Miss Strubbe teaches kindergarten at Gethsemane Lutheran School at Chalmers, La., and Miss Handsche is a teacher in her home state of Wisconsin. During the Wisconsin girl's visit at the Strubbe home she served as "long-distance hostess" at a shower-by-mail for Miss Strubbe, a prospective bride. The honoree received gifts from her former college classmates at Concordia.

Proxy gifts were received from the following "guests": Mrs. Prue Buehler of Vale, North Carolina; Miss Georgiana Weis of Fort Wayne, Indiana.

Miss Carolyn Litcherwalk of Kansas City, Kansas; Miss Ellen Radenwahn from Saginaw, Mich.; Miss Anna Kluckman, Chandler, Ill.

Miss Carolyn Walters of South Bend, Ind.; Miss Ethel Peterson of Virginia, Ill.; Miss Phyllis Reynolds and Mrs. Orris Lindsay, both of Jacksonville, Ill., and also the hostess, Miss Handsche, who was present.

Easy and delicious way to fix oysters: place the oysters in a shallow pan and add a small amount of the liquor; bake in a hot oven until they are plump or about 5 minutes.

Weddings Parties and Clubs

Cynthia Jane Isaacs

ALEXANDER—Mrs. Hazel Isaacs announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Cynthia Jane, to Robert G. Beck, son of Mrs. Geneva Beck.

Miss Isaacs graduated in 1954 from Franklin High School and is employed at the K-C Market here.

Mr. Beck graduated from Jacksonville High School and since his return from military service is engaged in farming.

Friends and relatives are cordially invited to attend the wedding to be solemnized at three o'clock the afternoon of Sunday, February eight, at the local Methodist church. A reception will follow, in the basement of the church.

Mrs. Cosner Is Ashland Church Class Hostess

ASHLAND—Eleven members of the Loyal Daughters Sunday school class of the Church of Christ and one guest, Mrs. Daisy Lewis, met at the home of Mrs. Catherine Cosner Tuesday evening for their regular meeting.

The meeting was opened with prayer being offered by Mrs. Betty Kruse, and Mrs. Eula Fitzsimmons read an article, "The Burden Lifted" for devotions.

The evening's program was in charge of Mrs. Leta Hammack. A poem, "Profit Without Honor" was given by Mrs. Catherine Cosner; three poems, "Our Hired Girl," "The Road That Lies Ahead" and "Home" and a Bible contest was given by Mrs. Daisy Lewis.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistant, Mrs. Betty Kruse.

The CYH of the Church of Christ held a victory banquet Monday evening in the basement of the church. After the meal, master of ceremonies, Bob Otken, presided. He introduced the guest speakers, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McLean and daughter, Judy, of Springfield. Richard Monroe gave the welcoming address.

A piano solo was played by Frances Ater. The new president, Danny Vernon then introduced the new officers for the coming year: President, Danny Vernon; vice-president, Richard Monroe; secretary and treasurer, Corrine Blakeman; reporter, Joan Watkins.

The McLean's then gave talks using scenic felt. A poem was read by Bob Otken. "If Christ Should Come to Visit You." Closing prayer was said by Corrine Blakeman.

Home Bureau Activities

Jacksonville Day unit of Home Bureau met Monday, Jan. 12, at home of Mrs. Roy W. Newberry of R. R. 3. The chairman, Mrs. Margaret Corcor, conducted the business session, when the unit voted to have a ten cent grab bag at the next meeting.

Mrs. Newberry gave the major lesson, "Fish Cookery." She prepared and served some very tasty dishes, especially a fish chowder in which she used fish fresh from the Gulf of Mexico.

Mrs. Elizabeth Henderson had the selected subject, "Improving Your Memory."

Roll call was "a hobby I hope to take up this year."

Mrs. Emma Dyer was a guest. The next meeting will be Feb. 9. Mrs. Elizabeth Henderson, 450 S. East street, will be hostess.

Concord PTA To Buy Equipment For Grade School

CONCORD—The January meeting of the P.T.A. was held Thursday evening at the grade school. Mrs. Richard Morris, president opened the meeting by giving the pledge to the American flag. Robert McAllister gave the lunch room report.

Projects decided on for the P.T.A. are protective covering for the stage curtains, purchase of screen to be used in sick room and records for the students for physical education and a clock for the gym.

The ways and means committee is planning for a supper in the near future.

A film, "The Shy Guy," was enjoyed before the adjournment to the lunch room where refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Farrell Cooper, M. G. West, Mrs. Bertha Bayless, Mrs. Luella Vandeventer and Mr. and Mrs. Robert McAllister.

ALEXANDER PTA TO MEET WEDNESDAY

Alexander PTA will have its regular meeting Wednesday, Jan. 21, at 7:30 at the school gym. Sandwiches, orange drink and coffee will be served by the fifth grade mothers.

A dried bean dish is a good pinch-hitter for meat when served along with milk, eggs or cheese.

SEPARATE CAREERS

NEW YORK (AP)—Cyril Ritchard keeps his careers as star performer and stage director firmly apart — even when he is doing both at the same time.

Ritchard is appearing in the Broadway smash hit, "The Pleasure of His Company," and is guiding "Lulu" as well.

To avoid public confusion, Ritchard announced that he wanted it "clearly established" that his directorial chores were not to interfere with his acting. He arranged during the trout tour of "Lulu" for transportation back into New York for each performance of "The Pleasure of His Company."

Birthday Parties Fete Five Residents Of Bluffs Area

BLUFFS—A number of parties were enjoyed in Bluffs and community last weekend. On Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Neese and Connie entertained a group of friends, the occasion honoring the birthday of the hostess' father, Donald Mullen.

Pinochle was enjoyed with high scores going to Mrs. Donald Mullen and Floyd Hart and low scores to Mrs. James Baird and William Morthole. Traveling prize went to Carl Pahlmann.

At the close of the evening delicious refreshments of angel food cake, fruit salad, nutmeats, mints, and coffee were served to Mr. and Mrs. James Baird, Mr. and Mrs. William Morthole, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pahlmann and Louise and the guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. Mullen. Connie Jo presented her grandfather with a beautifully decorated birthday cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Berry entertained Saturday evening at a turkey and ham supper honoring the birthdays of Mrs. Wilbur Mathews, Mrs. Howard Six and Pat Berry who had birthdays on Jan. 12. The party was a surprise. Lovely gifts were received by the honorees. The buffet supper was served from a table beautifully appointed. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Six, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Mathews, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Cockerill, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Berry, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Buhlig, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Little, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jones and the hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pahlmann and daughter, Louise, entertained at a surprise birthday party Sunday evening honoring the birthday of the host's sister, Mrs. Leo Nortrup. Mr. and Mrs. Nortrup were invited to the Pahlmann home for coffee and found the guests assembled for an evening of Rook. The prizes were won by Mrs. Aldo Engelbrecht and Clarence Pahlmann, high; Mrs. Clarence Pahlmann and George Magelitz, low. The honoree received lovely gifts.

Delicious refreshments of fruit salad, birthday cake and coffee were served to Mr. and Mrs. Aldo Engelbrecht, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lovekamp and Alan, Miss Amanda Magelitz, George Magelitz, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pahlmann, Mrs. Herman Pahlmann, Miss Doris Pahlmann, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pahlmann, the guest of honor and husband and the hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Frohwitter have purchased the Mrs. Lena Lovekamp property in Bluffs.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Brackett recently purchased the farm of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Faulkner southeast of Naples from Mrs. Elsie Elvidge of Peru, Ind. Mrs. Elvidge was a niece of the Faulkners and inherited the 118 acre farm.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Muntman left Thursday morning for a vacation trip which will take them into the Rio Grande Valley of Texas, around the coast to Florida.

Erle B. Colburn Dies Friday At Home In Loami

LOAMI—Erle B. Colburn, 74, passed away suddenly at 1:30 p.m. Friday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William Bromley, in Loami. Although Mr. Colburn had suffered from a known heart condition, his death was unexpected.

He was born Jan. 9 in Holdrege, Neb., the son of James B. and Clara C. Colburn. He had made his home in Illinois for over sixty years. He was united in marriage with Miss Lena McDonald in September of 1911 in Jacksonville, and she preceded him in death in 1926.

He is survived by two children, Mrs. Bromley and Floyd Colburn of Chicago; four grandchildren and two great grandchildren; an uncle, aunt and two nieces.

He had made his home in Loami for 25 years and had previously lived in Jacksonville. He was a member of the First Baptist Church in Jacksonville. Recently he had been employed as a watchman, but in his younger days had worked as a stationary engineer.

The body was taken to the McCullough Funeral Home in Loami where the family will meet friends after 2 p.m. Sunday. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon at the Methodist Church in Loami with the Rev. Henry Farrington officiating. Burial will be in Sulphur Springs Cemetery at Loami.

Jacks Stage Come From Behind Rally To Post 69-60 Win

Jacksonville High School had to stage a come from behind rally in the late stages of the game at the local bowl Friday night to down MacArthur of Decatur 69 to 60.

Mike Hudson hit a field goal with 25 seconds gone in the first period to give the Jacks a short lived lead. Thompson connected to knot the count 15 seconds later and John Chapman's five were behind to stay for the first time. Jim Keller was the big gun for the Jacks in the first period gathering 9 of the first 11 points of the contest for the local crew.

At one point in the first frame the Jacks were unable to connect with the basket and went three minutes without a point. The end of the first quarter saw the locals down 18 to 11.

The second frame went much as the first with Jacksonville unable to penetrate the MacArthur defense until late in the half. Hudson and Norvell combined to keep the Jacks in the game with their free throw shooting and were able to pull within seven points of the visiting team at the half, 34-27.

The Jacks looked like a different ball club as the final half got under way. Keller and Bourn hit from under the basket and with 4 minutes and 15 seconds left in the third period the Chapman coached crew over took the visiting club 39-38. MacArthur pulled ahead again but the end was in sight. The aggressive play and height advantage took its toll. At the end of the third frame Jacksonville was on top 49 to 46.

The scrappy MacArthur five tried at the outset of the final chapter to over take the local crew but were unable to do so. Hudson hit on two long shots and Keller and Allison scored from under the basket to ice the tilt. Hudson hit with 15 seconds left and Dave Allison laid a two pointer in with one second left to give Jacksonville the win 69 to 60.

Jim Keller was high for the Jacks for the third straight contest connecting for 21 points. Allison added 15 and Hudson 14. Lewis topped the losers with 17 points. Jacksonville now has an 8 and 2 record for the season. Jacksonville will entertain St. Teresa of Decatur at the local bowl tonight.

STORMING THE RAMPART—American League hockey players, a Bear in the white jersey and Indians in blue, left the ice to mix it with fans in Hershey, Pa. Customers got into the act, too, on and off the rink. The incident was triggered when a paying guest grabbed the jersey of Springfield's Don Cherry as he argued with timekeeper about leaving penalty box.

Rout Downs Bluffs In Close Contest, 50-43; Many Fouls

Rout downed the Bluffs quintet by a final score of 50 to 43 in a close contest all the way. Neither team was able to gain more than a five point spread during the entire game.

Numerous fouls kept Rout in trouble all the way with Curtis and Tobin fouling out in the last quarter.

Rout led at the half by two points and Bluffs came back to take the lead by one point going into the last canto.

In the last quarter the Rocks caught fire to drop in 17 points to Bluffs' 9. With two minutes to go, Rout had a 9 point lead and protected it for the win. Rout's record stands at 10 and 5 while Bluffs is in balance with 5 and 5.

They'll Do It Every Time By Jimmy Hatlo

GRUMBLEBERRY, THE HARD-BITTEN NEWS-SPERMAN, WAS THE COLDEST RISH THE CITY ROOM EVER ENCOUNTERED...

HI-YA, GRUMP... WHY SO CHEERFUL? HEH-HEH...

THAT'S THE WORST SOURPUSS IN CAPTIVITY... HE ALWAYS LOOKS LIKE HEAD MAN ON THE MOJOURNERS BENCH...

THE LAST TIME HE SMILED WAS WHEN THE KINDERGARTEN WAS CONDEMNED!

WHO'S THE LAUGHING BOY?

HI, FELLAS... HI, IGGY, OL' PAL... HOW'RE CONDITIONS? HEH-HEH... LONG SEE--NO TIME--HA-HA... HEY... I'M DOING PUBLICITY FOR THE DANDRUFF FUND...

I GET IT!

HE'S STILL A...!

BUT GRUMP IS NO LONGER WITH THE PAPER... HE'S A PRESS AGENT NOW... AND MY, HOW HIS PERSONALITY HAS CHANGED!

THANKS AND A HATLO THAT TIP TO MICKEY ALPERT, BOSTON, MASS.

With The Girl Scouts

All adults in Scouting might be interested in a current TV series called Hand Arts. This program may be seen on Saturday at 7:30 a.m. on channel 5, KSD, at 12:00 noon on channel 43, WEEK, Quincy and at 4:00 p.m. on channel 3, Champaign. The Girl Scout Office has reserved this time to be shown in our Council as soon as it is available from the Film Library.

A mothers' meeting will be held in the High School Music Room in Virginia on Wednesday, Jan. 21 at 2:00 for the purpose of organizing both Brownie and Intermediate Scout troops. Mrs. Hartman will conduct the meeting and it is hoped that it will be well attended.

The South Morgan Neighborhood meeting for January will be held at the Scout Office on Thursday, Jan. 22 at 9:30. All troops should be represented at this meeting.

Did you know that eggs fluctuate in price during the year almost more than any other food? When planning your food budget you may wish to use eggs sparingly during a high season and most generously during a low one.

Home Bureau Activities

The Bore Unit of Morgan-Scott Home Bureau met at the home of Mrs. Wm. Becker on Jan. 9, with Mrs. Leo Fuchs as assistant hostess. At 11:30 Mrs. Fuchs gave the major lesson on "Fish Cookery." She made three different fish dishes which were served with a pot luck dinner at noon.

Mrs. Fuchs, the president, conducted the business meeting. Mrs. J. Lusier, secretary read thank you notes from the Illinois Sight Saving school for gifts sent by the unit at Christmas time. Mrs. T. Stapleton was welcomed as a new associate member by the Vice-Chairman Mrs. Lloyd Smith.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Mearl Kern, recreation chairman, combined recreation with the home lesson on "Improving Your Memory." Prizes were won by Mrs. Robt. Foster and Mrs. H. Stewart.

Mrs. A. Nall gave an interesting Health report.

The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Mearl Kern with Mrs. J. Kinnett as assistant. The lessons will be given by Mrs. R. Johnson and the Home Advisor, Mrs. J. Fitzsimmons was a guest.

AAUW Plans Sale Of Books To Aid Scholarship Fund

Do you have books you no longer use or books you no longer have space for? Members of the local Recent Grads, a group of the American Association of University Women, are collecting old or used books.

In an effort to establish a scholarship fund, these women are planning a sale of books Saturday, Feb. 21. The sale, which is to be held on the MacMurray College campus, will be open to everyone.

Mrs. Philip Decker of 1106 W. State is chairman of the sale. If you have books to donate, you may call Mrs. Decker at CH 5-3538 or call Mrs. S. L. Haliczar, 768 W. Douglas, at CH 3-2488. These two and all other members of Recent Grads will be happy to pick up any available books.

AMVET National Commander Plans Visit To City

Eva Burns presided at the regular meeting of Amvets Auxiliary held on Tuesday evening, Jan. 13, at their club rooms. Roll call of officers showed all present. Prayer was given by Chaplain June Dodswoth.

Two new members were taken into the Auxiliary—Hazel White and Frances Coultas. One guest was present, Irene Worth.

All committee reports were given at this meeting. Irene Sanders, hospital chairman, reported that she and her committee had visited Oaklawn Sanatorium and Norbury Sanatorium and presented gifts to the veteran patients. Marge Newby and her committee had recently held their monthly party at the Jacksonville State Hospital. She also reported fixing and delivering Christmas baskets during the holidays.

Edna Johnson said that plans were underway for the ham and beans dinner to be served to the public on Tuesday, Jan. 20, from 11 to 1:30 o'clock. Tickets will be sold for 50c at the door for this event.

The Auxiliary voted to give a donation to the March of Dimes. Also the Amvets and Auxiliary will help collect at the booth for this cause.

It was announced by the Amvets that the national commander will be in Jacksonville at their club rooms on Wednesday evening. A potluck supper will be served and a dance will follow. The girls from the Auxiliary voted unanimously to pay for the food for one day when the Red Cross Bloodmobile will make their trip to Jacksonville in February.

The attendance prize was won by June Dodswoth.

The next regular meeting will be held on Tuesday evening, Jan. 27, which will be a potluck at 6:30 followed by the meeting at 8 o'clock.

Funeral Rites For Mrs. Walls

Funeral services for Mrs. Lelia K. Walls were held at 3 p.m. Friday at Greenwood Mortuary, San Diego, Calif. Interment will be at Greenwood Cemetery, San Diego.

Mrs. Walls recently suffered a severe heart condition and had been hospitalized for ten days. Three daughters and one son survive. Mrs. E. G. Pigott, Jacksonville, Mrs. C. L. Powers and Mrs. C. O. Box of San Diego, and William of Dorchester, Mass.

Three sisters, Mrs. Walter Priewe, Los Angeles; Mrs. Steve Condon, Covina, Calif., and Mrs. Jessie Kresge, Huntington Park, Calif., survive. There are eleven grandchildren.

Mrs. Pigott, 1200 W. College Ave., Jacksonville, returned from California Jan. 13 after visiting her family in San Diego. At that time her mother was much improved.

WILD SUMMIT

By MATT STUART

THE STORY: Many people want the return of Gil Yeager who was able to clear himself of a murder charge. Sheriff Kline Hatt tells his deputy, Ollie Ladd, that he will pursue a mid-air course between Yeager and the cattle combine.

Living back in George Clytie's chair, Gil Yeager savored fully the unaccustomed luxury of a barber's ministrations. The past hour he'd spent soaking in the tub in Clytie's back room, and he was now dressed in clothes new and fresh from Patch Kelly's shelves.

He went out into the brightness of mid-morning and had his second good look at this town of Tuscarora. Some life was on the street. There saddle mounts stood at the hitch rail of the Golden Horn, while a single one dored before the Lodgepole Bar.

Up street, Ollie Ladd came away from the courthouse and moved along as far as the Golden Horn, where he started to turn. In spying Yeager, he paused and stood staring. For a long half minute this dark and unreadable situation held, before Ollie wheeled into the barroom.

A thread of tension crawled up Gil Yeager's spine, chilling out some of his new-found sense of well-being. No man, he reflected soberly, could be entirely sure of what was stirring in the murky recesses of Ollie Ladd's mind, nor what wild impulse might govern his mood at any time. One thing, however, could be sure: counted on. Once Ollie Ladd hated, it was for all time.

The relaxed ease faded from Yeager's face and he crossed to Patch Kelly's store. Patch looked him up and down.

"The clothes seem to fit all right. Or did you forget something?"

"Not forgotten, Patch. Just something I had to think about, and I've done my thinking. What you got on the gun rack?"

Lips pursed, the storekeeper considered him soberly.

"Now it is my business to sell folks what they want to buy. But just now, Gil Yeager, I'm not sure I want to sell. I'd not like seeing you in 'rouble again."

"Patch," said Yeager, "it comes to me that the only way I could stay free of trouble on Summit Prairie would be to take my foot in my hand and run. Well, I'm not going to run. I didn't come back here to run. So—let's have a look at those guns."

Patch Kelly turned up his hands, jerked his head toward the rack. "Your business."

Gil wound up with a rifle and a six-gun, a saddle boot for the rifle and a belt and holster for the pistol.

Out in the street a buckboard rolled to a stop in front of the Summit House. Carrying a small gripsack, Laurie Benedict crossed the hotel porch and climbed to the buckboard seat beside her brother, Burke Benedict showed his sister a quick, fond glance.

"Have a good visit with Maggie Spelle?"

"Yes."

The brevity of the reply and the slightly subdued tone drew another glance.

"Nothing wrong, is there?"

"No. I've some news, though. Gil Yeager is back."

About to kick off the brake and urge his team to movement, Burke Benedict suspended both moves abruptly.

"Gil Yeager! Here—on the prairie?"

Laurie nodded. "It seems that Shad Emmett has confessed to false witness at the trial, so Judge Carmody has declared all charges against Gil struck from the record."

Burke stared off along the street for a moment. "And now Gil's back—a free man. There's nothing left here for him."

"There are the things he once had," Laurie said quickly.

"If you mean range and cattle, where are they?" Burke asked.

"I haven't seen a critter packing Gil Yeager's old iron in months and months. And right now there's a good 1,000 or 1,200 combine whitefaces ranging Lazy Y grass. What hope could one man have of moving them off and regaining possession? Certainly not Gil Yeager. For as I remember him, he was a great one to put things peaceful and safe and sure."

A short, terse bitterness broke from Laurie. "Have we the right to charge anyone with playing matters safe and sure?"

Burke reached over and patted her hand. "You'll do to take along. We've just got to play the cards dealt us the best way we know how."

Gil Yeager, finished with the cleaning of his guns, was filling the loops of his gunbelt with the fat, yellow cartridges. At the sound of Burke Benedict's measured, solid step at the store door, he looked up, saw who was entering, then slid from the counter and stood guardedly watching.

Coming from the outside brightness into the store's shadowy confines, neither Burke or Laurie Benedict were aware of Yeager's presence. But on moving nearer the counter, he felt the intensity of his regard, for she stopped short and met his glance with a swift turned head. He touched his hat.

"Hello, Laurie."

Burke swung around.

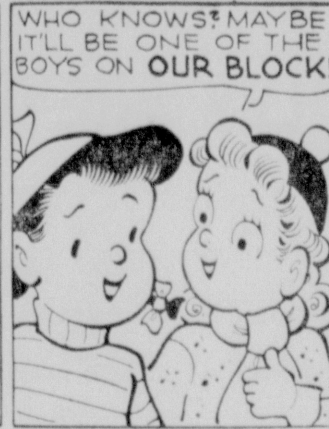

"Yeager!" He let it stand that way for a moment, then adied in a kinder tone. "Just heard you were back on the prairie."

A hint of the sardonic showed in Yeager's eyes. "Word does travel."

Laurie, head high, flayed Gil with the stormiest of glances.
